Dobe Juhoansi 3rd 03 By Lee Richard B Paperback 2003:

Romancing the Wild Robert Fletcher, 2014-02-24 The worldwide development of ecotourism including adventures such as mountain climbing and whitewater rafting as well as more pedestrian pursuits such as birdwatching has been extensively studied but until now little attention has been paid to why vacationers choose to take part in what are often physically and emotionally strenuous endeavors Drawing on ethnographic research and his own experiences working as an ecotour guide throughout the United States and Latin America Robert Fletcher argues that participation in rigorous outdoor activities resonates with the particular cultural values of the white upper middle class Westerners who are the majority of ecotourists Navigating 13 000 foot mountain peaks or treacherous river rapids demands deferral of gratification perseverance through suffering and a willingness to assume risks in pursuit of continuous progress In this way characteristics originally cultivated for professional success have been transferred to the leisure realm at a moment when traditional avenues for achievement in the public sphere seem largely exhausted At the same time ecotourism provides a temporary escape from the ostensible ills of modern society by offering a transcendent wilderness experience that contrasts with the indoor sedentary mental labor characteristically performed by white collar workers

Reinventing Hoodia Laura A. Foster, 2017-09-18 Native to the Kalahari Desert Hoodia gordonii is a succulent plant known by generations of Indigenous San peoples to have a variety of uses to reduce hunger increase energy and ease breastfeeding In the global North it is known as a natural appetite suppressant a former star of the booming diet industry In Reinventing Hoodia Laura Foster explores how the plant was reinvented through patent ownership pharmaceutical research the self determination efforts of Indigenous San peoples contractual benefit sharing commercial development as an herbal supplement and bioprospecting legislation Using a feminist decolonial technoscience approach Foster argues that although patent law is inherently racialized gendered and Western it offered opportunities for Indigenous San peoples South African scientists and Hoodia growers to make unequal claims for belonging within the shifting politics of South Africa This radical interdisciplinary and intersectional account of the multiple materialities of Hoodia illuminates the co constituted connections between law science and the marketplace while demonstrating how these domains value certain forms of knowledge and matter differently

Our Debt to the Dog Bryan D. Cummins, 2013-11-07 When Homo sapiens sapiens met Canis lupus lupus millennia ago the result was Canis lupus familiaris the domestic dog Since that fateful encounter the dog has become arguably humankind's greatest creation The domestic dog is the most widely distributed species other than ourselves in the world being found virtually wherever people live and is also the most diversified of species with literally hundreds of recognized breeds While we have shaped the dog it too has helped shape human history in innumerable ways Our Debt to the Dog is a critical historical and cross cultural examination through the use of case studies of this most improbable 15 000 year relationship and an exploration of how this relationship shaped the history of the world It is also very much an apology to the dog because over the course of the partnership horrific acts were perpetrated against it intentionally and otherwise Our Debt to the Dog enriches our understanding of the dog and extends our appreciation for the profound complexity of past and present human canine relationships and the dog's contributions to our lives and our world
