American writer Edwidge Danticat is one of the most recognized writers today Her debut novel Breath Eyes Memory was an Oprah Book Club selection and works such as Krik Krak and Brother I'm Dying have earned her a MacArthur genius grant and National Book Award nominations Yet despite international acclaim and the relevance of her writings to postcolonial feminist Caribbean African diaspora Haitian literary and global studies Danticat's work has not been the subject of a full length interpretive literary analysis until now In Edwidge Danticat The Haitian Diasporic Imaginary Nadège T. Clitandre offers a comprehensive analysis of Danticat's exploration of the dialogic relationship between nation and diaspora Clitandre argues that Danticat moving between novels short stories and essays articulates a diasporic consciousness that acts as a form of social political and cultural transformation at the local and global level Using the echo trope to approach Danticat's narratives and subjects Clitandre effectively navigates between the reality of diaspora and imaginative opportunities that diasporas produce Ultimately Clitandre calls for a reconstitution of nation through a diasporic imaginary that informs the way people who have experienced displacement view the world and imagine a more diverse interconnected and just future
