genome without limitations on its genetic characteristics Third we must insist that society has a right to help prevent unwanted pregnancies And finally we must ensure that genetically influenced characteristics from skin tone to predispositions to disease from sexual orientation to various mental inclinations will not be the basis of discrimination of any kind Writing concretely and persuasively Rothblatt explains the biotechnology of the Human Genome Project in terms we all can understand Not limiting her bioethics to the realm of abstraction she maintains that her new bioethics of birth will lead to the end of abortion and unwanted pregnancy and the creation of a world in which people can achieve a greater solidarity with one another Author note Martine Rothblatt is an international high tech lawyer and speaker on bioethics in Washington D C She is also the Chairperson of the Bioethics Subcommittee of the International Bar Association and the author of The Apartheid of Sex Popular Science ,1993 Child Growth and Development Ellen N.
