

Fatal Flaws

The background of the entire cover is a painting. It depicts a white, two-story house with a grey roof and a small porch, situated on a patch of green grass. The ground in the foreground is a light brown, sandy or silty surface, heavily cracked with deep, dark fissures that suggest it is sinking or crumbling. To the left of the house is a dense line of dark green evergreen trees. To the right, a calm body of blue water is visible, with a small, dark, rocky point of land jutting out. The sky above is a pale, hazy blue with soft, wispy clouds. The overall mood is one of instability and impending disaster.

Freedom from Toxic Relationships Avril Carruthers,2013-12-26 A guide to leaving painful destructive relationships behind both at home and at work Toxic relationships often come disguised as seemingly normal ones These subtly destructive relationships are characterized by the slow erosion of self esteem a loss of personal identity or a growing desire to please friends partners and family members who are impossible to please In this uplifting and informative book transpersonal psychotherapist Avril Carruthers will take a close look at adult relationships to show why we get involved in toxic relationships in the first place and instruct the reader on how to recognize if they re involved in one Once the toxic relationship is identified the author shows the reader how to begin their journey toward healing and how to meet the world with a new kind of confidence so that the cycle of toxic relationships can be broken once and for all What Carruthers teaches is just how possible it can be to learn how to recognize the manipulative or sweetly corrosive partner the family dynamics that make Christmas and other get togethers seem like hell or the nightmare boss who causes daily torment and that we can learn to leave these painful destructive patterns behind forever
