All student's instructional reading level should reflect a 95-98% rate of accuracy and a retell score of 3 or higher. An appropriate fluency rate should also be obtained for Grades One and Two. See NCTE A-2 Literacy Notebook for benchmark requirements for accuracy, fluency and retell.

Qualitative Fluency Rubric

Rubric Score	Descriptors
1	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> All reading is done word by word. Long pauses between words. Little evidence of phrasing. Little awareness of punctuation. There may be 2 word phrases, but word groupings are often awkward.
2	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Most reading is done word by word. Some 2 word phrasing. Superficial interpretation may result in longer examples of phrasing. Inconsistent application of punctuation and syntax with rereading for problem solving.
3	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Reading is done as a mixture of word by word reading, fluent reading, and phrased reading. Attention to punctuation and syntax with rereading for problem solving.
4	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Reading is in large, meaningful phrases. Few slow-downs for problem solving of words or to confirm accuracy. Superficial interpretation is evident throughout reading. Attention to punctuation and syntax is present.

use literature in their classrooms What does literature add to children s lives and to the curriculum Why is literature important at all Kathy Short answers these and other questions in this introductory book on how to integrate literature into your curriculum Reading real books adds to the process of understanding and learning Of course teachers have always included real books in their classrooms but now they are making them integral to the curriculum however well constructed basal programs cannot provide the variety and choice of reading materials that meet the equally wide range of students interests and needs Stories that are worth reading and that extend children s experiences and enrich their minds also motivate them to making reading part of their lives Kathy outlines the four roles literature plays in the curriculum Literature is a way to learn language not just reading but writing too Literature enhances learning in content areas social studies sciences mathematics and the arts Literature is one pathway to knowing and understanding the world Literature opens up an awareness of society and culture Because literature should be part of a curriculum that provides a meaningful engagement with language she shows you how to use real books to give children opportunities to learn You will enjoy her practical suggestions for implementing a variety of teaching strategies so that children have opportunities to learn about language through independent reading reading aloud partner reading and sharing readers theatre and choral reading author studies literature circles And you will be able to develop important reading strategies through mini lessons conferences and shared and guided reading As an example of a curricular framework Kathy explains the authoring cycle which uses inquiry to involve students deeply in a theme or topic She concludes with a discussion of evaluation as part of the curriculum and offers specific examples of evaluation techniques and samples of the appropriate forms As in the other volumes in this series there are Dialogues that invite you to reflect on your own teaching Shoptalks that provide brief reviews of relevant professional literature and Teacher To Teacher Field Notes comments by classroom teachers on their own successful teaching ideas
