The Presidency

of Richard Nixon Melvin Small,1999 A lively anecdotal account features every facet of Nixon s controversial administration just in time for the 25th anniversary of his history making resignation from the presidency 23 photos Getting the Connections Right Jay Rosen,1996 Rather than compete with tabloid television Jay Rosen argues in his book journalists need to repair the disconnect between the press and the public regarding political coverage in particular journalists must reshape the narrative of public life The Road to the White House ,2000 Poison Politics Victor Kamber,1997-08-21 Every campaign season more trash talk and attack ads dominate the airwaves and more voters subsequently turn off to politics Why do so many races degenerate into name calling and negativism What is the effect on our democracy our ability to make the right political and policy choices Poison Politics Are Negative Campaigns Destroying Democracy tackles these vital questions Inside Political Campaigns Karen S. Johnson-Cartee,Gary A. Copeland,1997-04-22 As Dan Nimmo notes in his introduction Inside Political Campaigns endeavors to trace the sources of professional campaign wizardry by encapsulating the theories and concepts that practitioners and scholars alike claim to guide and rationalize consultants magical weaving of strategies tactics and techniques into a winning tapestry of political communication This study presents the theoretical areas political communication consultants draw upon in making strategic and tactical decisions in political campaigns And it provides an understanding of what motivates political consultants to choose a particular campaign strategy by explaining how various strategies work with the voting public While the book is research driven its academic findings are tempered and expanded by the authors personal political consulting experiences The text will be of interest to scholars students and practitioners alike in political communication advertising public opinion political science political rhetoric and campaigns and elections Journalists and Gender Issues in the 1996 U.S. Presidential Election Kimmerly S. Piper-Aiken,2002 Sources Mitchel Gerber,1996 This book brings together over 40 selections of enduring intellectual value classic articles book excerpts and U S Supreme Court decisions that have shaped the study of American government and our contemporary understanding of it This book provides the opportunity for readers to encounter many of the greatest thinkers in American government at first hand The book includes carefully edited selections from the works of the most distinguished observers of American government past and present from James Madison and Richard F Fenno Jr to Laurence H Tribe Kathleen Hall Jamieson Jane J Mansbridge and Aaron Wildavsky Back cover From Edward Brooke to Barack Obama Dennis S. Nordin,2012-06-25 In 2008 American history was forever changed with the election of Barack Obama the United States first African American president However Obama was far from the first African American to run for a public office or to face the complexities of race in a political campaign For over a century offices ranging from city mayor to state senator have been filled by African Americans making race a factor in many elections In From Edward Brooke to Barack Obama Dennis S Nordin navigates the history of biracial elections by examining the experiences of a variety of African American politicians from across the country revealing how voters both black and white respond to the issue of race in an election The idea to compare the African American political experience across several levels of office first occurred to Nordin as he was researching Arthur W Mitchell's 1934 congressional campaign. The question of white voter support was of particular significance as was whether the continuation of that support depended upon his avoiding minority issues in office. To begin answering these questions and others, Nordin compares the experiences of eleven African American politicians. Taken from across the country to ensure a wide sample and accurate depiction of the subject, the case studies examined include Tom Bradley, mayor of Los Angeles; David Dinkins, mayor of New York; Freeman Bosley Jr, mayor of St Louis; Senator Edward Brooke of Massachusetts; Senator Carol Moseley Braun of Illinois; Governor L Douglas Wilder of Virginia; and Representative J C Watts Jr of Oklahoma, among others. As Nordin analyzes these individuals and their contribution to the whole, he concludes that biracial elections in the United States have yet to progress beyond race. From Edward Brooke to Barack Obama, he investigates the implications of race in politics, a highly relevant topic in today's American society. It offers readers a chronological overview of the progress made over the last several decades as well as shows where there is room for growth in the political arena. By taking a pertinent topic for the era and placing it in the context of history, Nordin successfully chronicles the roles of race and race relations in American politics.
