Comparative Strategies for Managing Linguistic Repertoires Désirée A. Baron,1999 Language Mixing in Infant Bilingualism Elizabeth Lanza,2004 This book addresses the issue of language contact in the context of child language acquisition Elizabeth Lanza examines in detail the simultaneous acquisition of Norwegian and English by two first born children in families living in Norway in which the mother is American and the father Norwegian She connects psycholinguistic arguments with sociolinguistic evidence adding a much needed dimension of real language use in context to the psycholinguistic studies which have dominated the field She draws upon evidence from other studies to support her claims concerning language dominance and the child s differentiation between the two languages in relation to the situation interlocutor and the communicative demands of the context She also addresses the question of whether or not the language mixing of infant bilingualism is conceptually different from the codeswitching of older bilinguals thus helping to bridge the gap between these two fields of study Metadiscourse Ann L.
