Educational Psychology An Application Of Critical Constructivism Counterpoints:

Educational Psychology Greg S. Goodman, 2008 Critical constructivist pedagogy considers social justice and the freedom of students to learn as the most important aspects of the teacher's work in the classroom Educational Psychology An Application of Critical Constructivism is a clarion call for pre-service teachers to identify their students' needs and apply critical constructivist pedagogy to facilitate their learning Collectively these essays emphasize the need for pre-service teachers to consider their role as fundamental to the development of their students' leadership and awareness of social justice and equality in education as critical for a healthier and saner world Annual Meeting Program American Educational Research Association, 2008 Critical Perspectives on Social Justice in Speech-Language Pathology Horton, RaMonda, 2021-06-25 There is very little discussion of socially just approaches to speech language pathology Within other fields of clinically oriented practice social justice is a topic that has received a great deal of attention within the last few years Pedagogy for addressing social justice has been developed in other disciplines The field of communication disorders has failed to move forward and do the same Discussion of social justice is important given the current sociopolitical climate and landscape that clients carry out in their day to day functioning Speech language pathologists SLPs have an opportunity to engage in practices that help address and alleviate some of the injustices that contribute to educational and health disparities experienced by communities of color They may do this through the development and application of a socially just orientation of culturally competent practice that fosters changes beyond the individual level Adapting such a framework makes it possible for SLPs to effectively advocate for and foster equity and inclusion for the individuals and broader communities impacted by SLP services Critical Perspectives on Social Justice in Speech Language Pathology addresses the socio-political contexts of how the field of speech language pathology and service delivery can impact policy and debates related to social justice issues It explores social position factors and the experiences of marginalized communities to explore how speech language pathologists deliver services train and prepare students and carry out research in communities of color It covers topic areas including disproportionality in special education disability rights and ableism achievement and opportunity gaps health disparities and LGBTQ rights with a focus on voice communication and gender diverse populations This book is essential for speech language pathologists administrators practitioners researchers academicians and students interested in how the SLP profession and discipline can contribute to or develop efforts to help address injustices faced by Black Indigenous and people of color BIPOC communities American Educational Research Association Annual Meeting Program American Educational Research Association, 2006 Bibliographic Index, 2009 Educational Psychology Anita Woolfolk, Philip H. Winne, Nancy Ellen Perry, 2005-07 Journal of Education for Library and Information Science, 1995 Includes an unnumbered directory issue of the association which is cataloged separately Resources in Education, 1997 Engaging Currere Toward Decolonization Shauna Knox, 2021-12-12 This timely volume uniquely illustrates how currere can be applied to the process of decolonizing subjectivity Centered around the experiences of one black woman from the third world the text details the theoretical underpinnings of Currere towards Decolonizing CTD and walks the reader through the autobiographical analysis involved in dismantling cognitive colonization Conceived as a four part autobiographical process of remembering identifying imagining and decolonizing the method of CTD is demonstrated as a means of recognizing and reflecting on how the colonial project has been internalized and of gradually dismantling the psychological affective and material impact of colonization Using both theoretical and experiential standpoints and intersecting with notions of anti blackness linguicide and Africana womanhood the volume moves curriculum theory urgently towards anti colonial mechanisms that disrupt the colonizing process This text will benefit researchers academics and educators in higher education with an interest in curriculum studies post colonialism and Black studies more broadly Those specifically interested in interpersonal psychoanalysis as well as gender and third world studies will also benefit from this book
