Educational Research Networks And Technologies:

Educational Research: Networks and Technologies Paul Smeyers, Marc Depaepe, 2007-12-03 Does IT poison the minds of the young Must educational institutions change to serve the needs of the twenty first century This book addresses these questions and more It records the intellectual struggles of a group of scholars coming to grips with changes in knowledge production and research communication Together these authors demonstrate how philosophical and historical approaches are relevant to the practice and theory of education

Education Research and Policy Jennifer Ozga, Terri Seddon, Thomas S. Popkewitz, 2006 The 2006 edition of one of the most respected annual publication in education focusing on research and its effects on educational policy around the globe

Networking Research Patrick Carmichael, 2011-06-16 The educational world is increasingly dominated by network rhetoric not only are teachers and learners seen as participants in networks the availability of low cost electronic devices collaborative environments and new forms of data born digital have changed the nature of education research How can researchers and research informed practitioners best engage in and with networks and develop effective networking practices How might networks and networking be conceptualized in order to frame and support their work in and on networks How do networks relate to existing organizational forms and how might new networking practices emerge This book draws on extensive research into educational research networks in schools colleges and informal education settings to explore these questions Carmichael combines theoretical insights into networks from different disciplinary backgrounds and awareness of technological developments with the accounts of teachers researchers and technologists He considers how educational research as a field is changing how individual and collective research capacities might develop identifies new research approaches and discusses the emerging role of the researcher networker

World Yearbook of Education 2006 Jenny Ozga, Terri Seddon, Thomas S. Popkewitz, 2013-01-11 This volume considers the ways in which educational research is being shaped by policy across the globe Policy effects on research are increasingly influential as policies in and beyond education drive the formation of a knowledge based economy by supporting increased international competitiveness through more effective evidence based interventions in schooling education and training systems What consequences does this increased steering have for research in education How do transnational agencies make their influence felt on educational research How do national systems and traditions of educational research and relations with policy respond to these new pressures What effects does it have on the quality of research and on the freedom of researchers to pursue their own agendas The 2006 volume of the World Yearbook of Education explores these issues focusing on three key themes globalising policy and research in education steering education research in national contexts global local politics of education research The 2006 volume has a truly global reach incorporating transnational policy perspectives from the OECD and the European Commission alongside national cases from across the world in contrasting contexts that include North and South America Canada France Singapore China Russia and New Zealand The range of contributions reflect how pervasive these developments are how much is new in this situation and to what extent evidence based policy pressures on research in education build on past relationships between education and policy This book considers the impact of the steering processes on the work and identities of individual researchers and considers how research can be organised to play a more active role in the politics of the knowledge economy and learning society

Educational Media and Technology Yearbook ,1996 Networked Learning Christopher Jones,2015-05-18 This book posits the idea that networked learning is the one new paradigm in learning theory that has resulted from the introduction of digital and networked technologies It sets out in a single volume a critical review of the main ideas and then articulates the case for adopting a networked learning perspective in a variety of educational settings This book fills a gap in the literature on networked learning Although there are several edited volumes in the field there is no other monograph makes the academic case and provides the academic context for networked learning This volume accomplishes three main goals First it assists researchers and practitioners in acquainting themselves with the field Second it provides resources for reference and guidance to those not well acquainted with the field Finally and most powerfully it also allows for the consolidation of a field that is truly multidisciplinary in a way that maintains coherence and consistency Directory of Projects, Fiscal Years 1980-1989 New York State Science and Technology Foundation,1990 Internet Connections Mary Engle,1993 A beginner s guide to this exploding resource 15% growth each month The focus is on access and use of value to librarians and their patrons Undaunting Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Engineering Education ,1929 Educational Technology in a Changing World Association for Programmed Learning and Educational Technology,1978 The Journal of Engineering Education ,1929 Organization Descriptions and Cross-references Union of International Associations Staff,2010-08-13 Yearbook of International Organizations is the most comprehensive reference resource and provides current details of international non governmental NGO and intergovernmental organizations IGO Collected and documented by the Union of International Associations UIA detailed information on international organizations worldwide can be found here Besides historical and organizational information details on activities events or publications contact details biographies of the leading individuals as well as the presentation of networks of organizations are included Otto E. Technology in Society Arie Rip, Thomas J. Misa, J. W. Schot, 1995 A fateful conceptual gap separates the policy makers and managers charged with promoting technology and the risk and technology assessors responsible for controlling it This hampers the effective use of many new technologies and prevents the development of others The strategy of constructive technology assessment CTA addresses this gap through facilitating societal learning processes and proposing a shared responsibility for the promotion and control of new technologies Combining analysis of both cases and concepts Managing Technology in Society confronts the underdevelopment of innovative potential for achieving goals of wealth sustainability and safety Factors that block change as well as conditions for successful learning are identified in a wide ranging selection of cases that encompass biotechnology clean technologies information and medical technologies The contributors build on the convergence of recent theories on technical change within economics sociology and the history of technology to offer suggestions for CTA action and so create a new paradigm of managing technology in society BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Documentation Abstracts ,1994 American Educational Research Association Annual Meeting Program American Educational Research Association,2005
