Representation and Narration Bettina Kümmerling-Meibauer, 2014-01-03 This volume discusses the aesthetic and cognitive challenges of modern picturebooks from different countries such as Denmark France Germany Norway Spain Sweden United Kingdom and USA The overarching issue concerns the mutual relationship between representation and narration by means of the picturebooks multimodal character Moreover this volume includes the main lines of debate and approaches to picturebooks by international leading researchers in the field Topics covered are the impact of paratexts and intertextual allusions the relationship between artists books crossover picturebooks and picturebooks for adults the narrative defiance of wordless picturebooks the representation of emotions in images and text and the depiction of hybrid characters in picturebooks The enlargement of the picturebook corpus beyond an Anglo American picturebook canon opens up new horizons and highlights the diverging styles and genre shifts in modern picturebooks This tendency also demonstrates the influence of specific authors and illustrators on the appreciation of the picturebook genre as in the case of Astrid Lindgren's picturebooks and the picturebooks created by renowned illustrators such as Anthony Browne Wolf Erlbruch Stian Hole and Bruno Munari This book will be the definite contribution to contemporary picturebook research for many years to come

Death within the Text Adriana Teodorescu, 2019-03-13 The book tackles the challenging theme of death as seen through the lens of literature and its connections with history the visual arts anthropology philosophy and other fields in humanities It searches for answers to three questions what can we know about death how is death socialised and how and for which purposes is death aesthetically shaped Unlike many other publications the volume does not endorse the fallacy of over simplifying death by seeing it either in an exclusively positive light or by reducing it to a purely literary figure Using literature's potential to stimulate critical thinking many contemporary stereotypical configurations of death and dying are debunked and many hitherto unforeseen ways in which death functions as a complex trigger of meaning making are revealed The book proves that death is an inexhaustible source of meanings which should be understood as peremptorily plural discontinuous problematic competitive and often conflictual It offers original contributions to the field of death studies and also to literary and cultural studies

Ethics and Children's Literature Claudia Mills, 2016-05-13 Exploring the ethical questions posed by in and about children's literature this collection examines the way texts intended for children raise questions of value depict the moral development of their characters and call into attention shared moral presuppositions The essays in Part I look at various past attempts at conveying moral messages to children and interrogate their underlying assumptions What visions of childhood were conveyed by explicit attempts to cultivate specific virtues in children What unstated cultural assumptions were expressed by growing resistance to didacticism How should we prepare children to respond to racism in their books and in their society Part II takes up the ethical orientations of various classic and contemporary texts including prosaic ethics in the Hundred Acre Wood moral discernment in Narnia ethical recognition in the distant worlds traversed by L. Engle and virtuous transgression in recent Anglo American children's literature and in the emerging children's literature of 1960s Taiwan Part III's essays engage in ethical criticism of arguably problematic messages about our relationship to nonhuman animals about war and about prejudice The final section considers how we respond to children's literature with ethically focused essays exploring a range of ways in which child readers and adult authorities react to children's literature Even as children's literature has evolved in opposition to its origins in didactic Sunday school tracts and moralizing fables authors parents librarians and scholars remain sensitive to the values conveyed to children through the texts they choose to share with them

Crossover Picturebooks Sandra L. Beckett, 2013-06-17 This book situates the picturebook genre within the widespread international phenomenon of crossover literature examining an international corpus of picturebooks including artists books wordless picturebooks and celebrity picturebooks that appeal to readers of all ages Focusing on contemporary picturebooks Sandra Beckett shows that the picturebook has traditionally been seen as a children s genre but in the eyes of many authors illustrators and publishers it is a narrative form that can address any and all age groups Innovative graphics and formats as well as the creative often complex dialogue between text and image provide multiple levels of meaning and invite readers of all ages to consider texts that are primarily marketed as children s books The interplay of text and image that distinguishes the picturebook from other forms of fiction and makes it a unique art form also makes it the ultimate crossover genre Crossover picturebooks are often very complex texts that are challenging for adults as well as children Many are characterized by difficult adult themes genre blending metafictional discourse intertextuality sophisticated graphics and complex text image interplay Exciting experiments with new formats and techniques as well as novel interactions with new media and technologies have made the picturebook one of the most vibrant and innovative contemporary literary genres one that seems to know no boundaries Crossover Picturebooks is a valuable addition to the study of a genre that is gaining increasing recognition and appreciation and contributes significantly to the field of children s literature as a whole

Floating Worlds Anna Jackson, Jane Stafford, 2009 The ground breaking New Zealand fiction of the last fifteen years has not attracted critical commentary beyond initial reviews despite its success with readers both local and international and despite its attracting major awards both local and international Floating Worlds contains stimulating and insightful essays on eight of the best novels of recent years These are novels in which there is no longer one authoritative way to tell a story In contrast to Allen Curnows stricture that New Zealand writers should conform to the disciplines of an uncompromising fidelity to experience of an unqualified responsibility to the truths of themselves in this place and that time these novels invite us into what Paula Morris calls a floating world where identities are negotiable and performative Floating Worlds illuminates the distinctive ways in which contemporary New Zealand writing approaches the relationship between the real and the imaginary and the different kinds of challenging edgy authenticities that operate in the space between them the familiar and the foreign the copy and the original the fake and the genuine the intention and the act including the act of writing Publisher's website
