Environmental Action ,1978 Environmental Issues ,1971 Engaging the Brain Marcia L. Tate,2024-08-26
Create unforgettable learning experiences for your students What can you do when students would rather socialize than pay attention to your lesson When students appear to lack motivation how do teachers ensure that learning sticks How can you best respond to learning loss caused by the pandemic In this new edition of Marcia Tate s wildly bestselling Worksheets Don t Grow Dendrites 20 field tested brain compatible instructional strategies designed to maximize memory are supported by new classroom applications and research In each chapter devoted to an individual strategy you ll discover The latest research on how the brain benefits when the strategy is used How the strategy engages all students and addresses common behavior problems Sample classroom activities for various grade levels that teachers can implement immediately Action plans for incorporating each strategy to accelerate learning When students actively engage in learning they stand a much better chance of retaining what we want them to know As students face setbacks and learning gaps it s imperative that we quickly bridge these divides by teaching them in the way their brains learn best New Trends in Integrated Science Teaching P. E. Richmond,1969 Greatest Hits of Environmental Education ,1993 Descriptions of model environmental education projects that were funded by the Environmental Education Grant Program in California from 1983 through 1991 Projects were selected for grants by fitting specific environmental education criteria The programs encourage efforts and innovations at the school district level to help students learn about their interrelationships with the natural and human environment practice making decisions which enhance the quality of life and learn to conserve energy and other natural resources. Emphasis is placed on partnerships with local community resources and rethinking science curriculums. Grant projects were also encouraged to restructure curriculum to integrate learning across disciplines and ages. Projects are clearly coded with the environmental concepts emphasized and include a description of the project, the grades appropriate for the activities, the year the grant was used, and school contact information. Projects are designed for a range of ages from kindergarten through high school.

The University of Virginia Record University of Virginia, 1914 Reading-writing Connections Mary F. Heller, 1991. Reading Writing Connections From Theory to Practice Second Edition is an extraordinary language arts methods text that enables elementary and middle school teachers to create classroom environments where all students can become lifelong readers and writers. Focusing on developmentally appropriate methods and materials, this remarkably readable book empowers a new generation of teachers to integrate reading, writing, listening, and speaking in K-8 classrooms. Heller's highly accessible writing style makes Reading Writing Connections suitable as the primary text for undergraduate and graduate courses in language arts, reading, writing, and literacy.
