Entanglements Or Transmedial Thinking About Capture John Hope Franklin Center Book:

Entanglements, Or Transmedial Thinking about Capture Rey Chow, 2012-04-11 This follow up volume to our book The Age of the World Target collects interconnected entangled essays of literary and cultural theorist Rey Chow. The essays take up ideas of violence capture identification temporality sacrifice and victimhood engaging with theorists from Derrida and Deleuze to Agamben and Rancière. Conversations on Embodiment Across Higher Education Jennifer Leigh, 2018-09-14 Embodiment is a concept that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries. However it is a contested term and the literature is fragmented particularly within Higher Education. This has resulted in silos of work that are not easily able to draw on previous or related knowledge in order to support and progress understanding. Conversations on Embodiment Across Higher Education brings a cohesive understanding to congruent approaches by drawing on discussions between academics to explore how they have used embodiment in their work. This book brings academics from fields including dance drama education anthropology early years sport sociology and philosophy together to begin conversations on how their understandings of embodiment have impacted on their teaching practice and research. Each chapter explores an aspect of embodiment according to a particular disciplinary or theoretical perspective and begins a discussion with a contributor with another viewpoint. This book will appeal to academics researchers and postgraduate students from a diverse range of disciplinary areas as evidenced by the backgrounds of the contributors. It will be of particular interest to those in the fields of education sociology anthropology dance and drama as well as other movement or body orientated professionals who are interested in the ideas of embodiment. Martial Arts Studies Paul Bowman, 2015-04-09 The phrase martial arts studies is increasingly circulating as a term to describe a new field of interest. But many academic fields including history philosophy anthropology and Area studies already engage with martial arts in their own particular way. Therefore is there really such a thing as a unique field of martial arts studies? Martial Arts Studies is the first book to engage directly with these questions. It assesses the multiplicity and heterogeneity of possible approaches to martial arts studies exploring orientations and limitations of existing approaches. It makes a case for constructing the field of martial arts studies in terms of key coordinates from post structuralism cultural studies media studies and post colonialism. By using these anti disciplinary approaches to disrupt the approaches of other disciplines Martial Arts Studies proposes a field that both emerges out of and differs from its many disciplinary locations. Ghost Faces David Greven, 2016-02-09 Combines psychoanalysis queer theory masculinity studies and cultural studies to explore contemporary manhood in film. Ghost Faces explores the insidious nature of homophobia even in contemporary Hollywood films that promote their own homo tolerance and appear to destabilize hegemonic masculinity. Reframing Laura Mulvey's and Gilles Deleuze's paradigms and offering close readings grounded in psychoanalysis and queer theory David Greven examines several key films and genre trends from the late 1990s forward. Movies considered range from the slasher film Scream to bromances and beta male comedies such as I Love You Man to dramas such as Donnie Darko and 25th Hour to Rob Zombie's remake of the horror film Halloween. Greven also traces the disturbing connections between torture porn found in such films as Hostel and gay male Internet pornography.
