What's the deal about mistletoe?

by LARRY RUFFY
Times Journal Staff Writer

The Christmas season sends people scurrying about to procure all the necessary, traditional decorations—a tree, stockings, for the fireplace, a yule log, and the list goes on. One decoration that has been enjoyed for years by young and old alike is mistletoe. Surely, mistletoe has done its part in creating the festive spirit of Christmas.

It is not uncommon during the holidays to see young people stand patiently under a sprig of the plant waiting for just the right person to pass by and give the much desired gift of a kiss.

More eager types may stand under the mistletoe and grab the first passer-by, coercing that person into relinquishing a kiss. At any rate, where did the "mistletoe tradition" originate?

The most widely accepted theory has it started with the Druids, pagan priests of ancient Britain. The Britons viewed mistletoe as a mystical plant that had great protective and curative powers. Annually, in what is now November, these people would follow the priests in a solemn procession into the woods to cut the sacred vine.

The Arch-druid, clothed in a white robe and armed with a golden sickle, climbed the tree and severed the vines. As sprigs of mistletoe fell, they were caught in a clean cloth by immodest maidens who stood waiting. Sacrifices to the Druid's gods and other festivities accompanied the ceremony. Mistletoe was distributed to all the people, who took it to their homes and hung sprigs of it over their doors for good luck.

Another theory is that Scandinavians created the mistletoe tradition. They saw mistletoe as a symbol of peace. When enemies chanced to meet under it, custom required that the conflicting parties declare a truce for the day and seal the truce with a kiss.

Other theories associated with mistletoe have survived. Some believe that mistletoe has the power to cure disease and protect people from harm. Mistletoe has been believed to promote fertility in both people and animals. It has been said that mistletoe can induce prophetic dreams.

Probably not too many people will stop to think about why they are hanging mistletoe this Christmas holiday season. But, that's really all right. Who wants to be bored with a history lesson, when the end result, a kiss, is so much more desirable?

Christmas full of rich tradition

Although the exact date of the Christmas festival is not known fact, the order of Bishop Liberian of Rome established Dec. 25 as the date of the Christmas Day. It is common in some countries to observe Dec. 6 as Christmas.

It is believed by some scholars that the use of the Christmas tree began in Rome and by 1500 it had begun to appear in Roman literature. The custom of hanging stockings may stem from the custom in the Netherlands of children placing their wooden shoes to be filled on Christmas eve with gifts, if they had been good that year.

Many stories are found concerning our modern Santa Claus. However, the facts state that Santa Claus developed from a real person, Saint Nicholas, a Bishop in the Roman Catholic Church. He was well known for his goodness and kindness to the children of that time. Other parts of the world refer to Santa Claus by such names as Christ Kind, Saint Nicolas, or Shen Knil.

The name Christmas comes from an early English term which means Christ's Mass and is used only in English speaking countries. Other countries use such names as Christ's Birthday, Yule Day, and Holy Night.

20 years ago HPC Christmas is festive

What Christmas was like at HPC in 1957, as seen through the eyes of the Yellow Jacket staff.

Dec. 7—Saturday at 4 p.m. the HPC band members join surrounding bands for the annual Yule Parade.

Minute Meditation from 1957 YJ

Gifts are wonderful. Everyone enjoys giving something to someone they care for or love. We certainly magnify this business of giving at Christmas time.

We must stop and think about the most wonderful gift, the gift that cost the most in every respect, the gift that God gave to us when He allowed His only Son to be born on earth. No matter how much we might pay for a gift or what it costs us, it could not be as priceless as the gift that God gave us, Jesus Christ.

Everyone enjoys his gifts being received in the right way. We can not overlook the fact that many people did not except the gift of Christ in the right way. Some even tried to kill Him.

Let us remember the reason for Christmas. Many times it is commercialized. People forget the real meaning. It has great significance. The birth of our Saviour.

So, this Christmas, when the bright lights will be flashing, gifts will be exchanged, families will gather, and everyone will relax and have a well time, remember the one for whom we should be most thankful—Christ.

—Dec. 10—Tuesday evening in the Roof Garden at the Brownwood Hotel the Jacket Cards will be sponsoring a banquet in honor of the athletes and the coaches. "Twain the Night Before Christmas" is the theme, and the main feature will be speeches given by the senior athletes and the coaches.

—Dec. 13—Friday is the first day of the A Cappella choir's four-day tour. The choir will present "The Messiah" at the First Baptist Church in Comanche Friday night, leaving Saturday afternoon to present the Sunday morning service at First Baptist Church, Beeville. Their final stop will be in San Antonio where the choir will join with the choir of First Baptist Church to present "The Messiah" Sunday night.

—Dec. 13—Friday in Yule Hodge at 7:30 p.m. will be the annual Faculty dinner sponsored by the Dottie Rabnett Club. "Around the World of Christmas" will be the theme, and the mistress of ceremonies will be Mrs. W. C. Schroeder.

—Dec. 17—Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. Alpha Beta Sigma will have their annual hay ride and caroling party. After singing carols, the group will retreat for refreshments at the home of their sponsor, Mrs. Maryjane Evans.

Mugs for sale

"An ideal gift for mom, dad, sister or brother is a Howard Payne mug sold by the senior class," said Tony Caraballo, class vice president.

Mugs range from $5 each to $15 each and can be bought by contacting Caraballo in 303 Richardson 715, or Donna Clark, class president, at Jennings, extension 382.

Be a safety bug

Across the country, nearly every newspaper, radio and television station has its own slogan to encourage safety throughout the holidays. We have collected a number of slogans for you to ponder before you leave on the "trip home."

DRIVE CAREFULLY. Christmas dinner won't taste so good through the veins.

BE ALERT. Save your wreath for your door, not your grave.

WATCH THE ROAD. Hospital bills won't make good presents for mom and dad.

DON'T BE A LEAD FOOT. New shoes won't do you too much good if you have no feet.

KEEP THE SPEED DOWN. or you may make a convertible instead of getting one for Christmas.

STAY AWAKE. Santa never visits the grave yard.

The above may sound like some modern cruelty jokes, but this is not a joking matter—take heed or you may be laughing six feet under. Make sure you are home for Christmas alive.

Majluf,1978 Mergers are an on going process in the business environment They correspond to the combination of two or more firms into a unique business concern This study is grounded on the notion that looking at mergers from a financial point of view may provide a valid platform for analyzing merger movements The fundamental development of this study is an equilibrium model for determining the market value of a firm when the managerial team is assumed to have better information than the market It is shown that when a firm with superior information does not have sufficient internal resources financial slack to undertake a project the full value of future investment opportunities is not necessarily captured in the market value of the firm This conclusion is obtained because there are situations in which by taking the project and bringing in new shareholders old shareholders lose from the dilution of their holdings in the firm more than what they get from the extra value added by the new project The dependency of market value from slack availability opens the possibility of justifying mergers via tender offers In this context the merger may be understood as a way to inject resources from a cash rich to a cash poor firm The expected payoff of this game is positive and equal to the loss in market value due to insufficient slack Revised Rules and Regulations to Implement Presidential Decree No. 930 Simplifying Export Procedures and Documentation Including Facsimiles of Prescribed Standard Forms for Exporters Philippines.
