Fridays Footprint How Society Shapes The Human Mind:

Friday's Footprint Leslie Brothers, 2001-10-11 A psychiatrist who has received international recognition for her research on the neural basis of primate social cognition Leslie Brothers M D offers here a major argument about the social dimension of the human brain drawing on both her own work and a wealth of information from research laboratories neurosurgical clinics and psychiatric wards Brothers offers the tale of Robinson Crusoe as a metaphor for neuroscience's classic and flawed notion of the brain a starkly isolated figure working praying writing alone But the famous castaway of literature she notes came from society and returned to society So too with our brains they have evolved a specialized capacity for exchanging signals with other brains they are designed to be social This can be seen in the brain's sensitive attunement to the meanings of facial expressions and physical gestures and the way it assigns mental lives to physical bodies a feat we too often take for granted Brothers describes fascinating case studies that show that certain kinds of brain damage can destroy a patient's ability to interpret faces leaving him or her with the sense that they are surrounded by zombies She takes us down to the level of the individual neuron exploring the response of brain cells to social events Perhaps most important she connects neuroscience psychiatry and sociology as never before showing how our daily interaction creates an organized social world a network of brains that generates meaningful behavior and thought Our emotions and our sense of self have no existence outside of a social context Brothers conducts her argument with grace and style By broadening our approach to the brain this groundbreaking book makes an important contribution to our understanding of the human mind

Defoe's Footprints

Robert M. Maniquis, Carl Fisher, 2009-01-01 In Defoe's Footprints essays by prominent scholars of eighteenth century literature salute Maximilian E Novak's influence upon the study of Daniel Defoe Best known today as the author of Robinson Crusoe Defoe was a prolific writer in the late seventeenth and early eighteenth centuries who wrote novels essays pamphlets and poems Widely extending Novak's perspectives this volume explores Defoe's place in the English novel and in literary developments of mimesis realism and popular mythology The contributors locate Defoe in new ways within the complex symbolism and discourse of a turbulent world of burgeoning capitalism Protestantism imperialism and economic speculation With attention to Defoe's neglected writings as well as to his important works this volume uncovers his distance from and influence on modern literature paying tribute to Maximilian E Novak by presenting new ideas about and new readings of Daniel Defoe

Stars in Our Eyes Angela Ndalians,Charlotte Henry,2002-03-30 The media star has become a powerful almost unparalleled cultural sign even as the star system has undergone radical transformation since the era of the Hollywood studio system Today s film industry continues to market and promote its products through actors in ways that seek to capture the often elusive quality that a star can embody Using contemporary stars such as Robert De Niro Keanu Reeves Arnold Schwarzenegger and Dennis Hopper this anthology of essays applies a variety of theoretical tools in its attempt to understand how we interpret stars and how we can begin to understand their cultural significance Likewise the study explores how the star system has become an increasingly complex phenomenon within society at large extending its impact beyond the cinema into music sports and fashion Many of the essays collected here consider this shift and examine how personae including the director Sam Peckinpah the royalty Princess Diana and even the digital star Lara Croft have captured the cultural imagination and have come to attain qualities as star like as those of the silver screen

Dancing the Cliff Edge Monica C. Worline,2004 Essays on Love and Knowledge Pierre Rousselot,2008 This volume is the third of Pierre

Rousselot's Philosophical Works It includes seven essays written between 1908 and 1914 one year before his death two were published posthumously A Theory of Concepts by Functional Unity and Idealism and Thomism These essays offer a complement to Rousselot's views on epistemology which he presented in Intelligence and constitute the core of his Neo thomistic philosophy However besides making his views more clear and specific these essays also go further than what we had in Intelligence It is an effort to offer a systematic view on knowledge as the fusion of the knower and the known These views go significantly beyond St Thomas doctrine and some of them are rather daring like Rousselot's notion of an Angel humanity The common thread of these essays is the role of love in knowledge Rousselot's expands St Thomas view on knowledge on the mode of nature per modum naturae or connaturality and understands love both as an attitude of the knower who must be in a certain disposition toward the object and a characterization of the relationship between knower and known From the introduction by Pol Vanderveelde

Understanding Nationalism Patrick Colm Hogan, 2009 Understanding Nationalism goes on to elaborate a cognitive poetics of national imagination most importantly narrative structure Hogan focuses particularly on three complex narrative prototypes that are prominent in human thought and action cross culturally and trans historically He argues that our ideas and feelings about what nations are and what they should be are fundamentally organized and oriented by these prototypes He develops this hypothesis through detailed analyses of national writings from Whitman to George W Bush from Hitler to Gandhi

BOOK JACKET Achieving Success Through Social Capital Wayne E. Baker, 2000-08 A hands on guide to leveraging every business person's greatest asset their network of personal and professional contacts to achieve individual and organizational success The Internet has led to an enormous exchange of contacts but these are often weak and impersonal Social capital by contrast is built on enduring relationships that give their participants new value and knowledge This book aims to show managers and executives how to evaluate the quality of their social capital and not just the quantity of their contacts

Levinas Studies, 2009 Critical Neurophilosophy and Indigenous Wisdom Donald Trent Jacobs, Four Arrows, Gerg Cajete, Gregory Cajete, Jongmin Lee, 2010 This book begins a long overdue dialogue between Western neuropsychology and Indigenous wisdom The latter holds that technology including that which supports the neurosciences is an important aspect of humanity but that without a deeper understanding of the sacred natural world its consequences will continue to disrupt the balance of life on Earth This book argues that without incorporating Indigenous wisdom into theories relating to brain research and scientific assumptions about human nature humanity may never learn how to avoid this problem After summarizing current studies about such important topics as generosity truthfulness courage humour art spirituality and lateralization two indigenous scholars and a South Korean neuroscientist discuss the research conclusions In most cases the ancient knowledge of Indigenous Peoples reveals significantly contrasting perspectives By offering students of neuropsychology and the various schools of neurophilosophy radically different views than those seen through the lens of Western science this book will help assure that understandings about the human brain may lead to a more healthy balance in human affairs Questions at the end of each chapter give opportunities for the reader to continue the dialogue and find further studies to support or refute the Indigenous assertions
