From A Swedish Homestead:

From a Swedish Homestead Selma Lagerlöf, 1901 From a Swedish Homestead Selma Lagerlöf, 1917 FROM A SWEDISH HOMESTEAD SELMA. LAGERLOF, 2018 From a Swedish Homestead Selma Lagerlöf, 2021-05-19 In From a Swedish Homestead Selma Lagerlöf crafts a poignant narrative that encapsulates the essence of rural life in Sweden through a blend of lyrical prose and evocative imagery. The book is structured as a collection of vignettes that convey the daily rhythms, culture, and customs of Swedish homesteaders, highlighting the interdependence between humans and nature. Lagerlöf's literary style is characterized by its simplicity and depth, drawing readers into a world where myth and reality intertwine, reflecting the broader literary context of the early 20th century marked by a search for authenticity and a return to the pastoral in response to industrialization. Selma Lagerlöf, the first woman to win the Nobel Prize in Literature, was deeply influenced by her Scandinavian roots and upbringing. Growing up in a rural environment, her intimate familiarity with the landscape and its people profoundly informed her storytelling. Her commitment to depicting the nuances of Swedish culture and folklore can be traced back to her personal experiences, allowing her to create richly textured narratives that resonate with both local and universal themes. From a Swedish Homestead is not only a celebration of rural life but also a profound meditation on the human spirit. Recommended for readers who appreciate evocative descriptions and the exploration of cultural identity, this book offers an accessible yet deeply enriching journey into the heart of Sweden's natural beauty and its inhabitants.

From a Swedish Homestead Selma Lagerlöf, 1926 From a Swedish Homestead Selma Lagerlöf, Jessie Brochner, 2016-10-01 She was the first female writer to win the Nobel Prize in Literature and is best remembered for her children's book Nils Holgerssons underbara resa genom Sverige. The Wonderful Adventures of Nils. A visit in 1900 to the American Colony in Jerusalem became the inspiration for Lagerlöf's book by that name. The royal family and the Swedish Academy gave her substantial financial support to continue her passion. By 1895 she gave up her teaching to devote herself to her writing. With the help of proceeds from Gösta Berlings Saga and a scholarship and grant she made two journeys which were largely instrumental in providing material for her next novel. With Elkan she traveled to Italy and she also traveled to Palestine and other parts of the East. In Italy a legend of a Christ Child figure that had been replaced with a false version inspired Lagerlöf's novel Antikrists mirakler. The Miracles of the Antichrist. Set in Sicily, the novel explores the interplay between Christian and socialist moral systems. However, most of Lagerlöf's stories were set in Värmland. Lagerlöf was asked by the National Teacher's Association in 1902 to write a geography book for children. She interestingly combined informative facts of Sweden's geography with a boy named Nils Holgersson. When the boy got in trouble, he traveled to many different provinces, allowing children to learn about Sweden while staying interested.

From a Swedish Homestead Selma Lagerlöf, 2020-03 It was a beautiful autumn day towards the end of the thirties There was in Upsala at that time a high yellow two storied house which stood quite alone in a little meadow on the outskirts of the town It was a rather desolate and dismal looking house but was rendered less so by the Virginia creepers which grew there in profusion and which had crept so high up the yellow wall on the sunny side of the house that they completely surrounded the three windows on the upper story At one of these windows a student was sitting drinking his morning coffee He was a tall handsome fellow of distinguished appearance His hair was brushed back from his forehead it curled prettily and a lock was continually falling into his eyes He wore a loose comfortable suit but looked rather smart all the same
