From Cannibals To Radicals Figures And Limits Of Exoticism

Jeffrey Duane Berglund

From Cannibals To Radicals Figures And Limits Of Exoticism:

From Cannibals to Radicals Roger Célestin, 1996 The objective to this study is essentially to arrive at a view of exoticism as a relation between Western Self and exotic Other that is fluctuatingly tenuous or strong depending on the narrating subject's position vis à vis a point of departure and return that I have alternately called Home Center and audience

Exotic Subversions in Nineteenth-century French Fiction Jennifer Yee, 2008 In this book Jennifer Yee examines the ways in which the imperialist enterprise is subverted in the French nineteenth century exotic literature through detailed case studies of key works by Chateaubriand Hugo Flaubert and Segalen The Sum of No Equation Sabine Freyling, 2008

Starting with the social and psychological side of the person Naipaul one can summarise some reasonably simple discoveries that can be extracted from both his autobiographical pieces and his seemingly fictional books published within a period of more than fifty years Naipaul suggested that the way to approach the author is not through finding out as much as possible about the man and one could easily argue that the idea shall simply be used in conversion One can learn more about the person when taking into account all that has been produced by the author who is part of the person By this means one can extract valuable information about both person and author and thus can easily uncover some mysteries that have been established by the author person to conceal the reality behind a fixed idea that has always played a significant role in Naipaul's life Having studied English Naipaul was aware of all the tools available and of the aims of literary critics and seems to have challenged these established routes for his own sake and to serve his purpose Antimodernism and Artistic Experience

Lynda Lee Jessup, 2001-12-15 Antimodernism is a term used to describe the international reaction to the onslaught of the modern world that swept across industrialized Western Europe North America and Japan in the decades around the turn of the twentieth century Scholars in art history anthropology political science history and feminist media studies explore antimodernism as an artistic response to a perceived sense of loss in particular the loss of authentic experience Embracing the authentic as a redemptive antidote to the threat of unheralded economic and social change antimodernism sought out experience supposedly embodied in pre industrialized societies in medieval communities or oriental cultures in the Primitive the Traditional or Folk In describing the ways in which modern artists used antimodern constructs in formulating their work the contributors examine the involvement of artists and intellectuals in the reproduction and diffusion of these concepts In doing so they reveal the interrelation of fine art decorative art souvenir or tourist art and craft questioning the ways in which these categories of artistic expression reformulate and naturalise social relations in the field of cultural production

Imperial Babel Padma Rangarajan, 2014-09-15 At the heart of every colonial encounter lies an act of translation Once dismissed as a derivative process the new cultural turn in translation studies has opened the field to dynamic considerations of the contexts that shape translations and that in turn reveal translation's truer function as a locus of power In Imperial Babel Padma Rangarajan explores translation's complex role in shaping literary and political relationships between India and

Britain Unlike other readings that cast colonial translation as primarily a tool for oppression Rangarajan s argues that translation changed both colonizer and colonized and undermined colonial hegemony as much as it abetted it Imperial Babel explores the diverse political and cultural consequences of a variety of texts from eighteenth century oriental tales to mystic poetry of the fin de siecle and from translation proper to its ethnological mythographic and religious variants Searching for translation s trace enables a broader more complex understanding of intellectual exchange in imperial culture as well as a more nuanced awareness of the dialectical relationship between colonial policy and nineteenth century literature Rangarajan argues that while bearing witness to the violence that underwrites translation in colonial spaces we should also remain open to the irresolution of translation its unfixed nature and its ability to transform both languages in which it works
