Globalization, Environmental Law, and Sustainable Development in the Global South (Entire Book in Open Access). Paolo Davide Farah, Kirk W. Junker, 2023 Globalization is a word with many meanings Some people say globalization is responsible for having lifted millions of people out of poverty over the past decades Other people say that globalization is neocolonialism All will agree that the processes that accompany globalization have had tremendous impacts on the environment Commodification of the environment along with environmental degradation have led to an almost universal awareness of the negative effects of such crises as disrupted climate The conservation and restoration of the environment as well as the protection of biodiversity are essential for human life including its economic components The international community has responded to the challenge by shifting away from the Brundtland Commission's intergenerational concept of development which meets the needs of current generations without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs to equating development with economic development under the New York Convention and reserving a third and separate pillar for economics over and against social concern and the environment However promising the concepts sustainable development and sustainability may have been they have become overused and meaningless Like worn out coins they became just placeholders To re inscribe meaning in the metal of sustainable development the authors in this book examine environmental problems caused facilitated or exacerbated by globalization as seen from the perspectives of the Global South and emerging economies Investments trade and technological advances are key driving forces of transition in these countries The economic development component also known as green growth policies may be preferred by globalizing forces which also regard it as most suitable to cope with climate disruption for example With the globalization of economics comes some aspects of the globalization of law The globalization of environmental law that is currently under formation in the Global South addresses the integration of the ecological and economic components by analyzing the contribution of emerging and developing economies Sometimes environmental law is part of the solutions sometimes environmental law is part of the problems In this book the terms Global South and emerging economies are included as alternative conceptualizations to the developed and developing countries But this alternative conceptualization itself is a divide that enables globalization In the chapters of this book the perspectives of the Global South and emerging economies are presented by lawyers from Brazil Ethiopia India Mongolia Nigeria and St Vincent and the Grenadines as well as from the European states of France Georgia Germany and Slovakia The authors are natives of either emerging economies or of the Global South or work extensively in those regions All of the book's themes are mentioned in the title globalization environmental law sustainable development the Global South implementation and challenges Value-Creating Global

Citizenship Education for Sustainable Development Namrata Sharma, 2020-10-13 This volume brings together marginalized perspectives and communities into the mainstream discourse on education for sustainable development and global citizenship Building on her earlier work Sharma uses non western perspectives to challenge dominant agendas and the underlying Western worldview in the UNESCO led discourse on global citizenship education Chapters develop the theoretical framework around the three domains of learning within the global citizenship education conceptual dimensions of UNESCO the cognitive socio emotional and behavioral and offer practical insights for educators Value creating global citizenship education is offered as a pedagogical approach to education for sustainable development and global citizenship in addition to and complementing other approaches mentioned within the recent UNESCO guidelines Peace, Justice and Strong Institutions Walter Leal Filho, Anabela Marisa Azul, Luciana Brandli, Amanda Lange Salvia, Pinar Gökcin Özuyar, Tony Wall, 2021-06-02 The problems related to the process of industrialisation such as biodiversity depletion climate change and a worsening of health and living conditions especially but not only in developing countries intensify Therefore there is an increasing need to search for integrated solutions to make development more sustainable The United Nations has acknowledged the problem and approved the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development On 1st January 2016 the 17 Sustainable Development Goals SDGs of the Agenda officially came into force These goals cover the three dimensions of sustainable development economic growth social inclusion and environmental protection The Encyclopedia of the UN Sustainable Development Goals comprehensively addresses the SDGs in an integrated way The Encyclopedia encompasses 17 volumes each one devoted to one of the 17 SDGs This volume addresses SDG 16 namely Promote peaceful and inclusive societies for sustainable development provide access to justice for all and build effective accountable and inclusive institutions at all levels and contains the description of a range of terms which allows a better understanding and fosters knowledge Concretely the defined targets are Significantly reduce all forms of violence and related death rates everywhere End abuse exploitation trafficking and all forms of violence against and torture of children Promote the rule of law at the national and international levels and ensure equal access to justice for all Significantly reduce illicit financial and arms flows strengthen the recovery and return of stolen assets and combat all forms of organized crime Substantially reduce corruption and bribery in all their forms Develop effective accountable and transparent institutions at all levels Ensure responsive inclusive participatory and representative decisionmaking at all levels Broaden and strengthen the participation of developing countries in the institutions of global governance Provide legal identity for all including birth registration Ensure public access to information and protect fundamental freedoms in accordance with national legislation and international agreements Strengthen relevant national institutions including through international cooperation for building capacity at all levels in particular in developing countries to prevent violence and combat terrorism and crime Promote and enforce non discriminatory laws and policies for sustainable development Editorial Board Alexandra Arag o Julinda Beqiraj D nis Ant nio da Cunha Renata Welinski da Silva Seabra Golda A Edwin Thomas Kaydor Tehmina Khan Amanda Lange Salvia Paula Lopes Petra Schneider Pinar G k in zuyar      Globalisation, Environment and Social Justice Manish Verma, 2018-07-06 This volume provides a comprehensive account of the connections between globalisation environment and social justice It examines varied dimensions of environmental sustainability the adverse impact of globalisation on environment and its consequences for poverty unemployment and displacement the impacts on marginalised sections such as scheduled castes and tribes and women and policy frameworks for ensuring environmental sustainability and social justice The chapters build on detailed case studies from different parts of the world and deal with critical environmental issues such as global emissions climate change sustainable development green politics species protection water governance waste management food production and governance besides education inclusivity and human rights Presenting a range of topics alongside new perspectives and discourses this interdisciplinary book will be useful to students and researchers of political studies sociology and environmental studies as well as policymakers and those working in the government and civil society organisations      From the Earth Summit to Local Agenda 21 William M. Lafferty, Katarina Eckerberg, 2013-11-05 This collection of in depth case studies emphasizes the diversity and inventiveness of local initiatives since the Rio Earth Summit within different national settings From the Earth Summit to Local Agenda 21 offers a realistic counterpoint to the official monitoring and assessment procedures of national governments and international bodies It highlights the problems of assessment and policy evaluation and clearly sets out the policy stages necessary for more effective realization of Local Agenda 21 objectives      The Political Economy of Environment and Development in a Globalised World Darley Jose Kjosavik, Paul Vedeld, 2011 This book is a critical exploration of the theoretical and thematic frontiers of environment and development studies in the context of globalisation The edited volume offers important theoretical interdisciplinary perspectives and insights on the political economy of environment and development The theoretical frontiers in environment and development studies focusing on concepts and theories in relation to sustainable development social justice capabilities freedom scarcity progress post development and environment and environmental governance are explored The book offers an exposition of resource appropriation in the emerging global political economy that draws on primary and secondary material from different geographical areas The main message in this volume is that the globalised governance regime led by the North sets the twin agenda of development and environmental management ignoring the contradictory nature of the two as the nature environment of the South are increasingly available to the North to subsidise development and manage environment in the North The book also extends this analysis to the globalised nature of peace and development in national states and presents experiences from Sri Lanka and Afghanistan The liberal peace building project located within the globalised regime has contributed to new conflicts over resources and power in the South as the resource itself is subject to the increasing demands of global particularly corporate capital The book is a call to academia policy makers and activists to pay serious attention to these contradictions in the theories policies and practices of development The book is in honour of Nadarajah Shanmugaratnam and draws on his work on the contradiction interdependence dialectic relation between capital and nature environment
