Outlook, 2009 The Indian National Bibliography B. S. Kesavan, 2009 India Today, 2009 Indian National Bibliography B. S. Kesavan, 2009-05 4th International Documentary and Short Film Festival of Kerala K. S. Sreekumar, 2011 I Have Become The Tide Githa Hariharan, 2019-02-05 Where is that land where water flows free A powerful beautifully imagined novel from Githa Hariharan asks when the tide will turn to make this dream real Hundreds of years ago Chikka son of a cattle skinner finds a home in Anandagrama among people who believe everyone is equal people whose prayer is inseparable from song and work the river and the land friendship and love Chikka becomes Chikkiah the washerman who sings by his beloved river But the Anandagrama movement against caste is torn apart and its men and women slaughtered or forced to flee In the present day Professor Krishna makes a discovery The saint singer Kannadeva is none other than the son of Chikkiah The poets and fighters of Anandagrama have been forgotten Kannadeva has been whitewashed into a casteless Hindu saint Professor Krishna reconstructs many lives of resistance from his findings in a palm leaf manuscript But will the bigots armed with bullets bombs and hit lists let scholars and poets do what they must Three Dalit students Asha Ravi and Satya dream of a future that will let them and their families live with dignity just like everyone else From Chikkiah s story to theirs a few things may have changed but too much has remained the same Three distinctive narratives intertwine past and present in compelling ways to raise an urgent voice against the cruelties of caste and the destructive forces that crush dissent But they also celebrate the joy of resistance the redemptive beauty of words and the courage to be found in friendship and love I Have Become the Tide is deeply political but it never loses sight of humour tenderness or the human spirit The Thousand Faces of Night Githa Hariharan, 2000-10-14 What makes a dutiful daughter wife and mother What makes a good Indian woman Devi returns to Madras with an American degree only to be sucked in by the old order of things a demanding mother's love a suitable but hollow marriage an unsuitable lover who offers a brief escape But the women of the hoary past come back to claim Devi through myth and story music and memory They show her what it is to stay and endure what it is to break free and move on Sita has been the ideal daughter in law wife and mother But now that she has arranged a marriage for her daughter she has to come to terms with an old dream of her own Mayamma knows how to survive as the old family retainer bending the way the wind blows But through Devi she too can see a different life A subtle and tender tale of women's lives in India this award winning novel is structured with the delicacy and precision of a piece of music Fusing myth tale and the real voices of different women The Thousand Faces of Night brings alive the underworld of Indian women's lives Almost Home Githa Hariharan, 2015-07-08 This word home So easy to say so casually said every day Why then is home so hard to see the way you see other places you visit for a week or two What do a medieval city in South India and Washington D C have in common How do people in Kashmir imagine the freedom they long for Who does Delhi city of grand monuments and hidden slums actually belong to Most of all what makes a city or any place home In large parts of the world including India the prevailing view of people and places and their multiple voices has been a western version How does this story change when it is located in India and the view complicated by several cultures languages traditions and political debates From Delhi Bombay Mumbai Ooty and Kashmir to Palestine Algeria and eleventh century Cordoba these intricately carved essays explore cities and other places through the lives of people and how they see home and belonging Combining memoir and polemic historical and imagined narrative anecdote and poetry Githa Hariharan recounts defining moments in which people experience the frictions of day to day survival or the collisions of ideas culture war or colonization The result is a fascinating and layered story of home a sense of home too many homes broken or lost homes The art of dying Githa Hariharan, 2019-04-10 Twenty stories of contemporary Indian life that demonstrate the range of Hariharan's writing executed with a precision of style and magical imagery Sometimes comic yet tinged with sadness as in the much anthologized The Remains of the Feast where an old woman near the end of her life suddenly feels the urge to sample all the food she has been forbidden sometimes with a twist as in Gajar Halwa where Chellamma a servant girl from a small town family finally understands what makes a big city work sometimes moving as in The Reprieve these stories never fail to surprise and delight Almost Home Githa Hariharan, 2016-03-22 What does a medieval city in South India have in common with Washington D C How do people in Kashmir imagine the freedom they long for To whom does

Delhi city of grand monuments and hidden slums actually belong And what makes a city or any place home In ten intricately carved essays renowned author Githa Hariharan tackles these questions and takes readers on an eye opening journey across time and place exploring the history landscape and people that have shaped the world s most fascinating and fraught cities Inspired by Italo Calvino s playful and powerful writing about journeys and cities Harihan combines memory cultural criticism and history to sculpt fascinating layered stories about the places around the world from Delhi Mumbai and Kashmir to Palestine Algeria and eleventh century Cordoba from Tokyo to New York and Washington In narrating the lives of these place s vanquished and marginalized she plumbs the depths of colonization and nation building poverty and war the fight for human rights and the day to day business of survival

In Times of Siege Githa Hariharan, 2019-05-24 What makes a fanatic A fundamentalist What makes communities that have lived together for years suddenly discover a hatred for each other New Delhi in the year 2000 Staff meetings lesson modules a half hearted little affair with a colleague this is the bland but comfortable life of Shiv Murthy a history teacher in an open university But disruption and change are on their way an outspoken young woman with a broken knee comes into his life and turns it upside down then Hindu zealots attack his writings on Basava the reformer poet When fundamentalism lands on his own doorstep Shiv discovers that the ideas he has inherited about history nations and patriots are liable to shrink day by day The time of siege is not exclusively Indian prejudice speaks different languages but has the same destructive message Only trust those of your kind With love lust and a perverted nationalism at his heels Shiv is forced to confront the demands of his times and choose a direction for the future But first he must come to terms with his own incomplete past his fears and his obsession with a woman who will give him the strength he seeks
