Give My Regards To Eighth Street Collected Writings:

Give My Regards to Eighth Street Morton Feldman, 2000 Afterword by Frank O Hara Morton Feldman 1926 1987 is among the most influential American composers of the 20th Century While his music is known for its extreme quiet and delicate beauty Feldman himself was famously large and loud His writings are both funny and illuminating not only about his own music but about the entire New York School of painters poets and composers that coalesced in the 1950s including his friends Jackson Pollack Philip Guston Mark Rothko Robert Rauschenberg Frank O Hara and John Cage Give My Regards to Eighth Street Morton Feldman, 2000 Afterword by Frank O Hara Morton Feldman 1926 1987 is among the most influential American composers of the 20th Century While his music is known for its extreme quiet and delicate beauty Feldman himself was famously large and loud His writings are both funny and illuminating not only about his own music but about the entire New York School of painters poets and composers that coalesced in the 1950s including his friends Jackson Pollack Philip Guston Mark Rothko Robert Rauschenberg Frank O Hara and John Cage Composing Ambiguity: The Early Music of Morton Feldman Alistair Noble, 2016-05-23 American composer Morton Feldman is increasingly seen to have been one of the key figures in late twentieth century music with his work exerting a powerful influence into the twenty first century At the same time much about his music remains enigmatic largely due to long standing myths about supposedly intuitive or aleatoric working practices In Composing Ambiguity Alistair Noble reveals key aspects of Feldman's musical language as it developed during a crucial period in the early 1950s Drawing models from primary sources including Feldman's musical sketches he shows that Feldman worked deliberately within a two dimensional frame allowing a focus upon the fundamental materials of sounding pitch in time Beyond this Feldman's work is revealed to be essentially concerned with the 12 tone chromatic field and with the delineation of complexes of simple proportions in crystalline forms Through close reading of several important works from the early 1950s Noble shows that there is a remarkable consistency of compositional method despite the varied experimental notations used by Feldman at this time Not only are there direct relations to be found between staff notated works and grid scores but much of the language developed by Feldman in this period was still in use even in his late works of the 1980s The Graph Music of Morton Feldman David Cline, 2016-05-26 Morton Feldman is widely regarded as one of America's greatest composers His music is famously idiosyncratic but in many cases the way he presented it is also unusual because in the 1950s and 1960s he often composed in non standard musical notations including a groundbreaking variety on graph paper that facilitated deliberately imprecise specifications of pitch and at times other musical parameters Feldman used this notation intermittently over seventeen years producing numerous graph works that invite analysis as an evolving series Taking this approach David Cline marshals a wide range of source materials many previously unpublished in clarifying the ideology organisation and generative history of these graphs and their formative role in the chronicle of post war music This assists in pinpointing connections with Feldman's compositions in other formats works by other composers notably John Cage and contemporary currents in painting Performance practice is examined through analysis of Feldman's non notated preferences and David Tudor's celebrated interpretations Morton Feldman Ryan Dohoney, 2022-02-24 Morton Feldman Friendship and Mourning in the New York Avant Garde documents the collaborations and conflicts essential to the history of the post war avant garde It offers a study of composer Morton Feldman's associations and friendships with artists like John Cage Jackson Pollock Philip Guston Frank O Hara Charlotte Moorman and others Arguing that friendship and mourning sustained the collective aesthetics of the New York School Dohoney has written an emotional and intimate revision of New York modernism from the point of view of Feldman's agonistic community
