Global City Streets Renaissance Lisbon:

The Global City Annemarie Jordan-Gschwend, K. J. P. Lowe, 2015 The volume highlights the unique status of Lisbon as an entrepôt for curiosities, luxury goods and wild animals. As the Portuguese trading empire of the fifteenth and sixteenth century expanded sea routes and networks from West Africa to India and the Far East, non-European cargoes were brought back to Renaissance Lisbon. Many rarities were earmarked for the Portuguese court but simultaneously exclusive items were readily available for sale on the Rua Nova, the Lisbon equivalent of Bond Street or Fifth Avenue. Specialized shops offered West African and Ceylonese ivories, raffia and Asian textiles, rock crystals, Ming porcelain, Chinese and Ryukyuan lacquerware, jewellery, precious stones, naturalia and exotic animal byproducts. Lisbon was also a hub of distribution for overseas goods to other courts and cities in Europe. The cross-cultural and artistic influences between Lisbon and Portuguese Africa and Asia at this date will be reassessed.

Early Modern Streets Danielle van den Heuvel, 2022-12-23 For the first time, Early Modern Streets unites the diverse strands of scholarship on urban streets between circa 1450 and 1800 and tackles key questions on how early modern urban society was shaped and how this changed over time. Much of the lives of urban dwellers in early modern Europe were played out in city streets and squares. By exploring urban spaces in relation to themes such as politics, economics, religion and crime, this edited collection shows that streets were not only places where people came together to work, shop and eat but also to fight, celebrate, show their devotion and express their grievances. The volume brings together scholars from different backgrounds and applies new approaches and methodologies to the historical study of urban experience. In doing so, Early Modern Streets provides a comprehensive overview of one of the most dynamic fields of scholarship in early modern history. Accompanied by over 50 illustrations, Early Modern Streets is the perfect resource for all students and scholars interested in urban life in early modern Europe.

The Market Space of Portuguese Cities Daniela Nunes Pereira, 2025-05-22 This book explores the transformation of market spaces in Portuguese cities during the intensification of trade driven by increasing profits from overseas exchanges and how architectural structures and urban planning were directly impacted by these changes to accommodate the new economic dynamics. The terminology and architectural elements of commercial spaces are analyzed to understand the organization of markets. By examining terms such as square, street, town hall, estaus, granaries, porches, arcades, balconies and shops, the book not only maps the physical locations of these markets but also offers an interpretation of these spaces as instruments of economic control and power organization reflecting the tensions between market efficiency and the dominance of urban elites. Based on historical documents including contracts, municipal records and urban regulations, the book offers fresh perspectives on market spaces in Portuguese cities, highlighting the crucial role of commerce in urban transformation and in the adaptation to the increasing economic demands of this period. This volume is intended for historians, architects, urban planners and scholars interested in urban history, economic history and the intersection of architecture and commerce. Its interdisciplinary approach makes it relevant for any reader seeking to understand how trade shaped cities in the early modern period Art, Travel, and Exchange between Iberia and Global Geographies, c. 1400–1550 ,2024-12-16 Traditional narratives hold that the art and architecture of the Iberian Peninsula in the late 15th century were transformed by the arrival of artists objects and ideas from northern Europe The year 1492 has been interpreted as a radical rupture marking the end of the Islamic presence on the peninsula the beginning of global encounters and the intensification of exchange between Iberia and Renaissance Italy This volume aims to nuance and challenge this narrative considering the Spanish and Portuguese worlds in conjunction and emphasising the multi directional migrations of both objects and people to and from the peninsula This long marginalised region is recast as a diffuse artistic centre in close contact with Europe and the wider world The chapters interweave varied media geographies and approaches to create a rich tapestry held together by itinerant artworks artists and ideas Contributors are Lu s Urbano Afonso Sylvia Alvares Correa Vanessa Henriques Antunes Piers Baker Bates Costanza Beltrami Ant nio Candeias Ana Cardoso Maria L Carvalho Maria Jos Francisco Bart Fransen Alexandra Lauw Marta Manso Eva March Encarna Montero Tortajada Elena Paulino Montero Fernando Ant nio Baptista Pereira Joana Balsa de Pinho Mar a Sanz Juli n Steven Saverwyns Marco Silvestri Maria Vittoria Spissu Sara Valadas C line Ventura Teixeira Nelleke de Vries and Armelle Weitz Global City Annemarie Jordan Gschwend,Kate Lowe,Jeremy Warren,2014-12-19 Lisbon in the 16th century became a unique destination for luxury goods It was an import free port an initial stopping point where ships traded their cargo to avoid continuing on long trading routes The Lisbon authorities sold the goods on to other ships and buyers for a higher price and as global trade routes and Portuguese networks expanded around the globe the Lisbon court capitalized on its monopoly over African and Asian luxury goods brought to Portugal By the late 1500s wealthy Europeans had become avid and well informed shoppers Asian lacquers Ming blue and white porcelain and ivories carved crystals jewels and intricate goldsmith work from Ceylon and Goa were among the products which sold for extraordinary prices at exclusive shops located on the Rua Nova dos Mercadores in Lisbon Here one could also find medicines drugs and spices from Portuguese Asia and exotic animals including wild turkeys from America The Rua Nova the most important commercial street in the city was the meeting point for everyone from indigenous Portuguese to Jews and black Africans New findings from archival research in Portugal will be presented for the first time in this volume 19 essays by leading scholars see details overleaf will be illustrated with a stunning selection of the types of luxury objects which could be bought on the Rua Nova including ivories rock crystal carvings and silver from the Wallace Collection and on loan from leading collections in the United Kingdom and Portugal A highlight will be one of the Wallace Collection s great treasures the moving rock crystal figure of Christ as the Good Shepherd carved in Ceylon and exquisitely embellished with gold and gem mounts probably in Goa This stunning object exemplifies both the quality of objects made for the luxury European market and how closely bound East and West were culturally and commercially even at this early date in our modern history Two of the most illuminating objects in the exhibition the rarely seen late 16th century paintings of the Rua Nova from Kelmscott Manor in Oxfordshire collection of the Society of Antiquaries of London are the only detailed early depictions of the street to have survived and are one of the most important art historical discoveries for Portugal to have been made in recent decades With their wealth of fascinating detail from traders black and white from all parts of the known world down to a vignette of a dog killing an American turkey the paintings give us an unparalleled view of this lost street reduced to rubble in the Lisbon earthquake of 1755
