Globalization Violence And The Visual Culture Of Cities Questioning Cities:

Globalization, Violence and the Visual Culture of Cities Christoph Lindner, 2009-09-10 This book is the first interdisciplinary volume to examine the complex relationship between globalization violence and the visual culture of cities

Globalization, Violence and the Visual Culture of Cities Christoph Lindner, 2009-09-10 What connects garbage dumps in New York bomb sites in Baghdad and skyscrapers in S o Paulo How is contemporary visual culture extending from art and architecture to film and digital media responding to new forms of violence associated with global and globalizing cities Addressing such questions this book is the first interdisciplinary volume to examine the complex relationship between globalization violence and the visual culture of cities Violence in both material and cultural forms has been a prominent and endemic feature of urban life in the global metropolitan era Focusing on visual culture and offering a strong humanities perspective that is currently lacking in existing scholarship this book seeks to understand how the violent effects of globalization have been represented theorized and experienced across a wide range of cultural contexts and urban locations in Asia Europe North and South America and the Middle East Organized around three interrelated themes fear memory and spectacle essay topics range from military targeting in Baghdad carceral urbanism in S o Paulo and the Paris banlieue riots to the security aesthetics of G8 summits the architecture of urban paranoia and the cultural afterlife of the Twin Towers Globalization Violence and the Visual Culture of Cities offers fresh insight into the problems and potential of cities around the world including Beijing Berlin London New York Paris and S o Paulo With specially commissioned essays from the fields of cultural theory architecture film photography and urban geography this innovative volume will be a valuable resource for students scholars and researchers across the humanities and social sciences Urban Memory and Visual Culture in

Berlin Simon Ward, 2025-10-01 As sites of continual change and transformation cities are fundamentally forgetful places Yet at the same time urban areas are also homes to museums and archives that collect and exhibit the past a key cultural political and economic activity This book looks at that paradox through the example of Berlin to see how the city has responded to challenges to memory created by rapid changes in politics economics society and the built environment ultimately arguing that the recovery of the experience of time is central to the practices of an emergent memory culture in the contemporary city

Handbook on Forced Migration Karen Jacobsen, Nassim Majidi, 2023-10-06 Forced migration in the 21st century is inextricably linked to three global developments climate change rapid urbanization and the lack of solutions faced by millions of forcibly displaced people By adding a focus on the disciplines of history and philosophy this erudite Handbook challenges narratives on forced migration and explains these contemporary challenges in a unique light

Toward an Urban Cultural Studies Benjamin Fraser, 2015-04-01 Toward an Urban Cultural Studies is a call for a new interdisciplinary area of research and teaching Blending Urban Studies and Cultural Studies this book grounds readers in the extensive theory of the prolific French philosopher Henri Lefebvre Laying the Foundation John W. White, Heather

Gilbert,2016-03-15 Laying the Foundation Digital Humanities in Academic Libraries examines the library's role in the development, implementation and instruction of successful digital humanities projects. It pays special attention to the critical role of librarians in building sustainable programs. It also examines how libraries can support the use of digital scholarship tools and techniques in undergraduate education. Academic libraries are nexuses of research and technology as such they provide fertile ground for cultivating and curating digital scholarship. However adding digital humanities to library service models requires a clear understanding of the resources and skills required. Integrating digital scholarship into existing models calls for a reimagining of the roles of libraries and librarians. In many cases these reimagined roles call for expanded responsibilities often in the areas of collaborative instruction and digital asset management and in turn these expanded responsibilities can strain already stretched resources. Laying the Foundation provides practical solutions to the challenges of successfully incorporating digital humanities programs into existing library services. Collectively its authors argue that librarians are critical resources for teaching digital humanities to undergraduate students and that libraries are essential for publishing, preserving and making accessible digital scholarship.

Hollywood Action Films and Spatial Theory Nick Jones,2015-03-02 This book applies the discourse of the so called spatial turn to popular contemporary cinema in particular the action sequences of twenty first century Hollywood productions. Tackling a variety of spatial imaginations, contemporary iconic architecture, globalisation and non places, phenomenological knowledge of place, consumerist spaces of commodity, purchase, cyberspace, the diverse case studies not only detail the range of ways in which action sequences represent the challenge of surviving and acting in contemporary space but also reveal the consistent qualities of spatial appropriation and spatial manipulation that define the form. Jones argues that action sequences dramatise the restrictions and possibilities of space offering examples of radical spatial praxis through their depictions of spatial engagement, struggle and eventual transcendence.

Geographies of Affect in Contemporary Literature and Visual Culture,2020-12-15 Geographies of Affect in Contemporary Literature and Visual Culture opens a dialogue between the literary and filmic works produced in Central Europe and in the Anglophone world. It relies on the concept of translocality to explore this corpus offering new readings of contemporary Hungarian films as well as urban fiction and poetry in English. Calling attention to the role of affect in imagining city space, the volume investigates György Pálfi's Taxidermia, Béla Tarr's Family Nest, Teju Cole's Open City, Toni Morrison's Jazz, China Miéville's Un Lun Dun, Chimamanda Adichie's Americanah and Patrick Neate's City of Tiny Lights among many other urban narratives. Contributors examine both widely explored emotions and under researched affects such as shame, fascination and the role of withdrawal in contemporary literature and culture. Contributors: Tamás Bányai, Imola Blagzdi, Fanni Feldmann, Zoltán György, György Kalmár, Anna Kráchy, Márta Krácsi, Jennifer Leetsch, Katalin Pálfi, Miklós Takács, Pieter Vermeulen.
