Gender And Identity Key Themes And New Directions:

Gender and Identity: Key Themes and New Directions Stephen Whitehead, Anissa Talahite, Roy Moodley, 2013-02-28 A core text for courses in gender studies which uses identity as an entry point for examining gender construction The Oxford Handbook of Gender in Organizations Savita Kumra, Ruth Simpson, Ronald J. Burke, 2014-03-13 The issue of gender in organizations has attracted much attention and debate over a number of years The focus of examination is inequality of opportunity between the genders and the impact this has on organizations individual men and women and society as a whole It is undoubtedly the case that progress has been made with women participating in organizational life in greater numbers and at more senior levels than has been historically the case challenging notions that senior and or influential organizational and political roles remain a masculine domain The Oxford Handbook of Gender in Organizations is a comprehensive analysis of thinking and research on gender in organizations with original contributions from key international scholars in the field The Handbook comprises four sections The first looks at the theoretical roots and potential for theoretical development in respect of the topic of gender in organizations The second section focuses on leadership and management and the gender issues arising in this field contributors review the extensive literature and reflect on progress made as well as commenting on hurdles yet to be overcome The third section considers the gendered nature of careers Here the focus is on querying traditional approaches to career surfacing embedded assumptions within traditional approaches and assessing potential for alternative patterns to evolve taking into account the nature of women's lives and the changing nature of organizations In its final section the Handbook examines masculinity in organizations to assess the diversity of masculinities evident within organizations and the challenges posed to those outside the norm In bringing together a broad range of research and thinking on gender in organizations across a number of disciplines sub disciplines and conceptual perspectives the Handbook provides a comprehensive view of both contemporary thinking and future research directions Religion, Transformation and Gender Kurt Appel, Isabella Guanzini, 2017-10-02 The fifth issue of the Interdisciplinary Journal for Religion and Transformation in Contemporary Society J RaT centers on the topic of religion transformation and sex gender The focal point will be on religious and cultural transformation processes and their repercussions on gender roles constructs and representations on the one hand and on sex and or gender transformations which are embedded in the context of specific religious traditions on the other Transformation is understood here as change alteration and reformatting The multifaceted connections between religion transformation and sex gender are concretized in an abundance of material and symbolic phenomena and are examined starting from different subject specific and methodical approaches Toxic Masculinity Stephen M. Whitehead, 2021-04-29 Humankind is at the tipping point in its greatest ever revolution a revolution in gender relationships gender identities and gender power Women are confidently on the rise while men and their behaviours are under scrutiny like never before At the core of this historic shift lies toxic masculinity You ll have heard the term but do you know what it means Where does TM come from Who has it How does one catch the TM virus What does it look like What does it mean for women love and relationships Is it the only masculinity out there And most importantly how can we get rid of it This fascinating insightful and engaging book provides all the answers while exploring the most pressing issue of the 21st century Informed by the author's 30 years of research into men and masculinities and the latest global studies this book is the definitive examination of modern man and a must read for anyone concerned with the future of men gender and sexual relationships

21st Century Sociology: A Reference Handbook (Clifton D. Bryant, Dennis L. Peck, 2006-11-17) 21st Century Sociology: A Reference Handbook provides a concise forum through which the vast array of knowledge accumulated particularly during the past three decades can be organized into a single definitive resource. The two volumes of this Reference Handbook focus on the corpus of knowledge garnered in traditional areas of sociological inquiry as well as document the general orientation of the newer and currently emerging areas of sociological inquiry.

Gendercide and Genocide (Adam Jones, 2004) The most wide-ranging book ever published on gender-selective mass killing or gendercide, this collection of essays is also the first to explore systematically the targeting of non-combatant battle-age males in various wartime and peacetime contexts. Representing such fields as sociology, political science, psychology, queer studies, and human rights activism, the contributors explore themes and issues outlined by editor Adam Jones in the book's opening essay. In that article, which provoked considerable debate when it was first published in 2000, Jones argues that throughout history and around the world, the population group most consistently targeted for mass killing and state-backed oppression are non-combatant men of roughly fifteen to fifty-five years of age. Such males, Jones contends, are typically seen as the group posing the greatest danger to the conquering force. Jones's article also examines the use of gendercidal institutions such as female infanticide, witch hunts, military conscription, and forced labor against both women and men. The subsequent essays, some original and some drawn from a special issue of the Journal of Genocide Research and other sources, expand, diversify, and criticize this framing of gendercide. They range from a sophisticated theoretical analysis of gendercide to in-depth treatments of such topics as the Rwandan genocide of 1994, the gendercidal oppression of young African American males, the predicament of gays and lesbians in the face of increasing biotechnological manipulation of human behavior, and the psychology of shame and humiliation underlying gendercides against both sexes. Still, other articles take issue with Jones's theories of gendercide or explore how human rights organizations have defined, documented, and responded to gendercide and other sex-specific atrocities. A closing essay considers the relevance of feminist and men's studies literatures for the study of gendercide.

Gender and Ageing (Sara Arber, Kate Davidson, Jay Ginn, 2003) This book is a follow-up to Arber and Ginn's award-winning Connecting Gender and Ageing (1995). It contains original chapters from eminent writers on gender and ageing, addressing newly emergent areas within gender and ageing, including gender identity and masculinity in later life. Early work on gender and ageing was dominated by a focus on older women. The present collection breaks with this tradition by emphasizing changing gender roles and relationships, gender identity, and an examination of masculinities in midlife and later life A theme running through the book is the need to reconceptualize partnership status in order to understand the implications of both widowhood and divorce for older women and men as well as new forms of relationships such as Living Apart Together LAT relationships There is also an underlying focus on how socio economic circumstances influence the experiences of ageing and the ways transitions are negotiated Written with undergraduate students and researchers in mind Gender Ageing will be an invaluable text for those studying social gerontology sociology of later life gender studies health and community care and social policy Men and Gender Relations Bob Pease,2002 Discusses theoretical political and personal perspectives on men s lives within the context of patriarchal gender relations and examines the potential for men to move beyond patriarchy towards egalitarian non exploitative relations with women Power, Politics and Identity in South African Media Adrian Hadland,2008 South Africa offers a rich context for the study of the interrelationship between the media and identity The essays collected in this book explore the many diverse elements of this interconnection and give fresh focus to topics that scholarship has tended to overlook such as the pervasive impact of tabloid newspapers Interrogating contemporary theory the authors shed new light on how identities are constructed through the media and provide case studies that illustrate the complex process of identity renegotiation taking place currently in post apartheid South Africa The contributors include established scholars as well as many new voices Collectively they represent some of South Africa s finest media analysts pooling skills to grapple with one of the country s most vexing issues who are we
