English Chinese Chinese English Nuclear Security Glossary:

English-Chinese, Chinese-English Nuclear Security Glossary Chinese Scientists Group on Arms Control, Chinese People's Association for Peace and Disarmament, National Research Council, Policy and Global Affairs, Committee on International Security and Arms Control, Committee on the U.S.-Chinese Glossary of Nuclear Security Terms, 2008-10-24 The U S National Academies Committee on International Security and Arms Control CISAC and the Chinese Scientists Group on Arms Control CSGAC of the Chinese People s Association for Peace and Disarmament have jointly produced a Chinese English English Chinese Nuclear Security Glossary This glossary of approximately 1000 terms is built on 20 years of joint discussions on nuclear arms control nuclear nonproliferation nuclear energy and regional security issues and is intended to remove barriers to progress in exchanges and diplomatic cooperative or other activities where unambiguous understanding is essential

Chinese Politics and International Relations Nicola Horsburgh, Astrid Nordin, Shaun Breslin, 2014-01-03 The question of how China will relate to a globalising world is one of the key issues in contemporary international relations and scholarship on China yet the angle of innovation has not been properly addressed within the field This book explores innovation in China from an International Relations perspective in terms of four areas foreign and security policy international relations theory soft power image management and resistance Under the complex condition of globalisation innovation becomes a particularly useful analytical concept because it is well suited to capturing the hybridity of actors and processes under globalisation By adopting this theme studies not only reveal a China struggling to make the future through innovation but also call attention to how China itself is made in the process The book is divided into four sections Part 1 focuses on conceptual innovation in China s foreign and security policies since 1949 Part 2 explores theoretical innovation in terms of a potential Chinese school of International Relations Theory Part 3 expands on innovation in terms of image management a form of soft power in particular how China exports its image both to a domestic and foreign audience Part 4 highlights how innovation is used in China by grassroot popular groups to resist official narratives This book will be of interest to students and scholars of Chinese studies Chinese foreign policy and international relations international relations theory and East Asian security

Security in Cyberspace Giampiero Giacomello, 2014-07-31 Today the Internet has become a source of information that no country or company can forgo It is not only used to communicate or entertain but most importantly to operate utilities and public services such as banking or air traffic As the reliance on computer networks across societies and economies keeps growing so do security risks in cyberspace referred to as cybersecurity Cybersecurity means protecting information and control systems from those who seek to compromise them It also involves actors both malicious or protective policies and their societal consequences This collection of essays provides a better understanding of the risks perceptions and myths that surround cybersecurity by looking at it from three different levels of analysis the sovereign state the infrastructure and stakeholders of the Internet and the individual The essays explore such issues as information ownership censorship cyberwars cyberterrorism privacy and rebellion bringing together expert knowledge from computer science and the social sciences with case studies It reviews existing policies and practices and discusses the threats and benefits of living in an increasingly networked world This authoritative analysis of one of the most controversial and compelling security debates of the twenty first century will appeal to scholars and practitioners interested in security international relations and policymaking

Paradox of Power David C. Gompert, Phillip C. Saunders, 2020-11-19 The second half of the 20th century featured a strategic competition between the United States and the Soviet Union That competition avoided World War III in part because during the 1950s scholars like Henry Kissinger Thomas Schelling Herman Kahn and Albert Wohlstetter analyzed the fundamental nature of nuclear deterrence Decades of arms control negotiations reinforced these early notions of stability and created a mutual understanding that allowed U S Soviet competition to proceed without armed conflict The first half of the 21st century will be dominated by the relationship between the United States and China That relationship is likely to contain elements of both cooperation and competition Territorial disputes such as those over Taiwan and the South China Sea will be an important feature of this competition but both are traditional disputes and traditional solutions suggest themselves A more difficult set of issues relates to U S Chinese competition and cooperation in three domains in which real strategic harm can be inflicted in the current era nuclear space and cyber Just as a clearer understanding of the fundamental principles of nuclear deterrence maintained adequate stability during the Cold War a clearer understanding of the characteristics of these three domains can provide the underpinnings of strategic stability between the United States and China in the decades ahead That is what this book is about

Regional Ballistic Missile Defense in the Context of Strategic Stability Russian Academy of Sciences, National Academy of Sciences, Policy and Global Affairs, Committee on International Security and Arms Control, Joint Committee on Ballistic Missile Defense in the Context of Strategic Stability, 2019-12-13 As ballistic missile technology proliferates and as ballistic missile defenses are deployed by both the Russian Federation and the United States it is increasingly important for these two countries to seek ways to reap the benefits of systems that can protect their own national security interests against limited missile attacks from third countries without undermining the strategic balance that the two governments maintain to ensure stability Regional Ballistic Missile Defense in the Context of Strategic Stability examines both the technical implications of planned missile defense deployments for Russian and U S strategic deterrents and the benefits and disadvantages of a range of options for cooperation on missile defense

The Paradox of Power David C. Gompert, Phillip C. Saunders, 2011-12-27 Looking deeply into the matter of strategic vulnerability the authors address questions that this vulnerability poses Do conditions exist for Sino U S mutual deterrence in these realms Might the two states agree on reciprocal restraint What practical measures might build confidence in restraint How would strategic restraint affect Sino U S relations as well as security in and beyond East Asia
