Youth participation in the digitalised world is nowadays a topic of high interest in the public sphere. The authors of this publication aim to bring new perspectives and varied visions to the key questions of understanding how young people interact with all the opportunities the digital space has to offer and how they can use this space for causes relevant not only for themselves but also for the democratisation of the societies in which they live. By doing so, the authors strive to build knowledge on this topic illustrating how the digitalisation of contemporary European societies simultaneously offers significant opportunities and poses considerable challenges. Pedagogical Content Knowledge Marjorie Ann Terpstra, 2009 Developing Technological 10 Lessons in Digital Literacy Nik Peachey, 2024-06-27

This book contains a collection of ten lesson plans each based around an authentic infographic. The lessons move through the common stages of classroom discussion to help students access their existing knowledge and develop their spoken fluency through comprehension tasks to help students develop the ability to understand text and visual data and on to digital research and presentation tasks to help students develop the ability to question and check the credibility of information, think more critically about the motivations behind it and to reformulate and integrate what they have discovered into their existing beliefs and opinions. Each lesson ends with some form of creative output task such as a presentation, article, essay or infographic creation that enables students to share what they have learned. The materials have been designed to work on desktop, laptop and mobile devices. They also include QR codes so that students can access the infographics on their mobile devices. The lesson plans are not intended as a course but as projects and activities that can supplement existing course materials. The lessons cover a range of topics including Advertising and how it influences us, Body language and how to understand it, Introverts and extroverts and how they differ, Emotional intelligence and how it impacts on our relationships, Facts about hair, Happiness and what effects it, Developing study skills, The environment and waste caused by clothes manufacturing, Daily habits of the world's wealthiest people, The history of marriage and weddings. Each lesson includes a Teachers' guide with advice and answer key. A Teachers' digital presentation

Contemporary Poetics Louis Armand, 2007-11-20. Exploring the boundaries of one of the most contested fields of literary study, a field that in fact shares territory with philology, aesthetics, cultural theory, philosophy and even cybernetics, this volume gathers a body of critical writings that taken together broadly delineate a possible poetics of the contemporary. In these essays, the most interesting and distinguished theorists in the field renegotiate the contours of what might constitute contemporary poetics, ranging from the historical advent of concrete poetry to the current technopoetics of cyberspace. Concerned with a poetics that extends beyond our own time as a mere marker of present-day literary activity, their work addresses the limits of a writing practice beginning with Stéphane Mallarmé in the late nineteenth century that engages concretely with what it means to be contemporary. Charles Bernstein's Swiftian satire of generative poetics and the textual apparatus together with Marjorie Perloff's critical historical treatment of writing after Bernstein and other proponents of language poetry provides an itinerary of contemporary poetics in terms of both theory and practice The other essays consider precursors recognizable figures within the histories or prehistories of contemporary poetics from Kafka and Joyce to Wallace Stevens and Kathy Acker conjunctions in which more strictly theoretical and poetical texts enact a concerted engagement with rhetoric prosody and the vicissitudes of intelligibility cursors which points to the open possibilities of invention from Augusto de Campos s concrete poetics to the codework of Alan Sondheim and transpositions defining the limits of poetic invention by way of technology
