Doing Justice Dennis A. Jacobsen, 2017-05-01 Doing Justice introduces readers to congregation based community organizing rooted in the day to day struggles and hopes of urban ministry. It draws from the author's decades long career of personal experience in community organizing ministries. Illustrated with examples from the experience of community organizers, Doing Justice weaves theological and biblical warrants for community organizing into concrete strategies for achieving justice in the public arena. It offers sound treatment of fundamental organizing principles like power, self interest and agitation and suggests ways to build and sustain an organization relate to media and corporations and strengthen ministries and empower lay leaders. The second edition includes forewords by veteran pastor activists Bill Wylie Kellermann and Grant Stevensen and a new preface that notes recent changes in organizing describes needed new directions and connections and discusses the significance of new movements such as Black Lives Matter. Also new is Stevensen's running conversation with Jacobsen drawing readers into deeper engagement with organizing practices. Designed for use by congregations and church leaders as well as by ministerial students, Doing Justice will open new vistas for community action in support of the poor, the disadvantaged and the disenfranchised of our society. Doing Justice Dennis A. Jacobsen, 2001. Illustrated with examples from the experience of community organizers, Jacobsen's work weaves the theological and biblical warrants for community organizing into concrete strategies for achieving justice in the public arena. It offers sound treatment of fundamental organizing principles like power, self interest and agitation. It also suggests ways to build and sustain an organization to relate to media and corporations and to strengthen ministers and empower lay leaders. Designed for use by congregations and church leaders as well as by ministerial students, it includes a carefully crafted study guide by Rick Deines. Doing Justice will open new vistas for community action in support of the poor, the disadvantaged and the disenfranchised of our society. BOOK JACKET Doing Justice Craig L. Nesson, 2002 A Spirituality for Doing Justice Dennis A. Jacobsen, 2021-02-02 Dennis Jacobsen brings his many years of experience doing congregation based organizing for justice into conversation with unique spiritual reflections. Jacobsen has learned along the way that deeper reflection must precede organizing action. He says, "As I age I have respect for those who faithfully enter the inner room of their soul to meet and love God. Social action is messy and disruptive and noisy." Jacobsen turns to his work creating and meditating on icons to connect biblical themes and Christian personalities to guide those who are preparing for congregation organizing and faith based social action. His unique perspectives help anyone engaged in such work go deeper in prayer and devotion before diving into the messy work of organizing. This book follows his first volume Doing Justice: Congregations and Community Organizing in which Jacobsen explored biblical and theological reasons congregation based organizing offers a faithful way of living out the teachings of Jesus. In this new volume he seeks to integrate spiritual practices, reflections on iconography, in particular, that he claims are foundational to congregation based community organizing. The book includes introductory chapters to describe his own spiritual practice around icons several chapters on different figures and what can be learned or gleaned from them as one prepares for justice work The final section provides a month long daily office for doing justice which participants may adopt in their life of prayer and faithful reflection      A Spirituality for Doing Justice Dennis A.
