This volume offers a selection of the most important philosophical work in the new and fast-growing interdisciplinary area of artificial life; it will set the agenda for future study and research. Artificial Life: A Life research aims to synthesize the characteristics of life by artificial means, particularly employing computer technology. The essays chosen explore such fascinating themes as the nature of life, the relation between life and mind, and the limits of technology. The first two papers, one of which is the classic A Life manifesto by Christopher Langton, provide a general overview of the subject and compare it with artificial intelligence (AI). In Part II, the contributors describe examples of A Life research. Part III discusses various explanatory strategies in A Life and relates them to approaches in AI and cognitive science, while Part IV focuses on the concept of life in general. Finally, Part V explores A Life's relation to functionalism and the feasibility of strong A Life.
