www.routledge.com/cw/cohen      A Handbook for Teacher Research Colin Lankshear, Michele Knobel, 2004-04-16 This informative book helped me to understand research in general and to bring focus and clarity to my current research project. The text answers questions and provides guidance and support in a manner that is user friendly and easy to comprehend. After reading this book I feel empowered as a teacher researcher and would unhesitatingly recommend it to other teacher researchers, graduate students and educators. Francesca Crowther, teacher and doctoral student, Nova Scotia, Canada. This book provides a comprehensive and detailed approach to teacher research as systematic, methodical and informed practice. It identifies five requirements for all kinds of research and provides clear and accessible guidelines for teachers to use in conducting their own classroom based studies. Features: A clear definition of teacher research which insists on more than stories and anecdotal retrospectives; Innovative organisational structure based on the collection and analysis of spoken, written and observed data with strong emphasis on the design of research projects; Easy to use and widely applicable tools and techniques for collecting and analysing data in qualitative research; Informed by the authors' own wide ranging experiences. A Handbook of Teacher Research provides everything the teacher researcher needs in order to conduct good quality practitioner research. It is ideal for upper level undergraduate Education programmes and for postgraduate research as well as for teacher researchers who conceive and drive their own independent studies.      Handbook of Qualitative Research in Education Michael R.M. Ward, Sara Delamont, 2020-08-28 This updated second edition unpacks the discussions surrounding the finest qualitative methods used in contemporary educational research. Bringing together scholars from around the world, this Handbook offers sophisticated insights into the theories and disciplinary approaches to qualitative study and the processes of data collection, analysis and representation, offering fresh ideas to inspire and reinvigorate researchers in educational research.      Boys and Their Schooling John Whelen, 2011-04-28 Pt 1 Boys in the frame pt 2 That unstable construct      Fieldwork Christopher Pole, 2005-01-21 Fieldwork is one of the richest research methods in the Social Sciences. Originally the preserve of anthropologists, notably Bronislaw Malinowski, it has now achieved a much wider relevance. This four volume set provides the most systematic guide to the method. Volume 1 addresses the Origins and Definitions of Fieldwork and includes sections on the meaning of Fieldwork, Fieldwork and Theory, Early Fieldwork, Fieldwork and Fieldworkers. Volume 2 concentrates on the Fieldwork Experience and covers the History of Fieldwork, Sampling in the Field, Observing in the Field, Field Talk, Interviews and Conversations, Documents and the Field, Visual Methods and Fieldwork and Reflecting On Fieldwork Experience. Volume 3 focuses on Ethics and Politics in Fieldwork and includes sections on The Relevance of Politics and Ethics, Taking Sides, Sensitive and Stressful Situations, Dilemmas and Responsibilities. Volume 4 addresses the Analysis, Outcomes and Reflections of Fieldwork and includes sections on Analyzing Fieldwork, Fieldwork and the Author, Representing Fieldwork, Autoethnography and Writing Method and Leaving The Field. The collection is a superb addition to the series, providing readers with a comprehensive and indispensable critical guide to Fieldwork. Christopher Pole

'Half London' in Zambia Anthony Simpson, 2003

This book describes and analyses life in St Antony s a Zambian Catholic boys mission boarding school in the 1990s using the context sensitive methods of social anthropology Drawing upon Michel Foucault's notion of the panoptic gaze Anthony Simpson demonstrates how students are both drawn to mission education as a civilising process yet also resist many of the lessons that the official institution offers particularly with respect to claims of true Christian identity and educated masculinity The phrase Half London reflects the boys own perception of their privileged but very partial grasp in the Zambian context of acute socio economic decline of civilised status The book offers unparalleled detail and insight into the contribution of mission schooling to the processes of postcolonial identity formation in Africa Its rich and compelling ethnography opens up a strong sense of everyday life within the school and raises compelling questions about identity in plural societies beyond the confines of St Antony's Anthony Simpson taught at the Zambian Catholic mission boys boarding school from 1974 to 1997 He arrived in Zambia as an English teacher but his involvement in the day to day life of St Antony's led him to an interest in anthropology and psychology Key features A lively account of African mission schooling examining the process of postcolonial education A practical demonstration of Michel Foucault's discussion of subjectivity and the invention of self A detailed demonstration of religious plurality in an African setting

Qualitative Research Keith Carter, Sara Delamont, 1996 A book which examines the need for social scientists to include into their research the feelings and emotions of both themselves and their respondents Qualitative researchers have in part insulated their readers from raw emotion or failed to document the whole of the facts surrounding collection of sensitive data By taking a professional stance the observer can sometimes miss the reality of what they are observing People's problems including the researchers own subjective biases and feelings need to be included in all qualitative research The book argues that the professional stance frequently adopted by observers and observed unconsciously insulates the observer and hence the reader from the true picture This book examines the worries fears feelings and restrictions placed on researchers when observing recording and interviewing people about their private and sensitive inner feelings and the problems which arise when respondents being studied are in the grip of powerful emotions
