Song of Songs Marvin H. Pope, 2007 The Song of Songs has been compared to a lock for which the key was lost Traditionally ascribed to King Solomon the book has a sensuous imagery that has been the subject of various allegorical interpretations chiefly as relating to Yahweh's love for Israel or Christ's love for the Church Marvin H Pope suggests that the poem is what it seems an unabashed celebration of sexual love both human and divine rooted in the fertility religions of the ancient Near East the sacred marriage rite and the funeral feast A distinctive feature of his interpretation is the correlation between Love and Death Also discussed are parallel literatures possible Indian influences and the significance of the Song for women's liberation Samples of traditional Jewish and Christian allegorical interpretations are cited for each verse Numerous photographs and drawings of ancient Near East origin illustrate and authenticate this provocative and controversial interpretation of Solomon's sublime song Virgil's Garden Frederick Jones, 2013-10-16 Virgil's book of bucolic verse the Eclogues defines a green space separate from the outside worlds both of other Roman verse and of the real world of his audience However the boundaries between inside and outside are deliberately porous The bucolic natives are aware of the presence of Rome and Virgil himself is free to enter their world Virgil's bucolic space is in many ways a poetic replication of the public and private gardens of his Roman audience enclosed green spaces which afforded the citizen sheltered social and cultural activities temporary respite from the turbulence of public life and a tamed landscape in which to play out the tensions between the simple ideal and the complexities of reality This book examines the Eclogues in terms of the relationship between its contents and its cultural context making connections between the Eclogues and the representational modes of Roman art Roman concepts of space and landscape and Roman gardens A misunderstood miracle: an essay in favour of a new interpretation of 'the sun standing still' in Joshua x.12-14 Abram Smythe Palmer, 1887 Normal Instructor and Teachers World, 1918 Normal Instructor, 1907 Language Learning Disabilities in School-age Children and Adolescents Geraldine P.
