Contemporary Issues in Educational Policy and School Outcomes Wayne K. Hoy, Cecil Miskel, 2006-03-01 This book is the fifth in a series on research and theory dedicated to advancing our understanding of schools through empirical study and theoretical analysis. Scholars both young and established are invited to publish original analyses but we especially encourage young scholars to contribute to this series. The current volume is similar to its predecessors in that it provides a mix of beginning and established scholars and a broad range of theoretical perspectives in all 14 authors contributed to 9 separate but related analyses which were selected for publication this year.

The Role of the Literary Canon in the Teaching of Literature Robert Aston, 2020-05-12. This book investigates the role of the idea of the literary canon in the teaching of literature especially in colleges and secondary schools in the United States. Before the term canon was widely used in literary studies which occurred in the second half of 20th century when the canon was first seriously viewed as politically and culturally problematic, the idea that some literary texts were more worthy of being studied than others existed since the beginning of the discipline of the teaching of literature in the 1800s. The concept of the canon however extends as far back as to Ancient Greece and its meaning has evolved over time. Thus this book charts the changing meaning of the idea of the literary canon examining its influence specifically in the teaching of literature from the beginning of the field to the 21st century. To explain how the literary canon and the teaching of literature have changed over time and continue to change this book constructs a theory of canon formation based on the ideas of Michel Foucault and the assemblage theory of Manuel DeLanda illustrating that the literary canon while frequently contested is integral to the teaching of literature yet changes as the teaching of literature changes.

Classroom Literacy Assessment Jeanne R. Paratore, Rachel L. McCormack, 2007-04-04. Showcasing assessment practices that can help teachers plan effective instruction this book addresses the real world complexities of teaching literacy in grades K-8. Leading contributors present trustworthy approaches that examine learning processes as well as learning products that yield information on how the learning environment can be improved and that are conducted in the context of authentic reading and writing activities. The volume provides workable nuts and bolts ideas for incorporating assessment into instruction in all major literacy domains and with diverse learners including students in high poverty schools and those with special learning needs. It is illustrated throughout with helpful concrete examples.

Career Technical Education Framework for California Public Schools, 2007. Serves as a how to manual for teachers, school and district administrators, curriculum specialists and school boards in developing standards based career technical education CTE pathways, courses, curricula and assessments. For use in middle schools, high schools, regional occupational centers and programs and adult education programs. Provides students with rigor and relevance in both academic and CTE knowledge and skills for success in postsecondary education and employment. Students are instructed in responsibility, learn what is required to get and keep a job, receive information about and gain experience in careers of interest so they can make informed choices in education and careers.
