Free Proxy List - List of Open Proxy Servers

Proxy Server List - this page provides and maintains the largest and the most up-to-date list of working proxy servers that are available for public use. Our powerful software checks over a million proxy servers daily, with most proxies tested at least once every 15 minutes, thus creating one of the most reliable proxy lists on the Internet - all for free.

Any proxy server listed on this page can be used with a software application that supports the use of proxies such as your web browser. The most popular uses of proxies include hiding your real IP address, disguising your geographic location, and accessing blocked websites.

This proxy list is updated once every 60 seconds from the data stored in our gigabyte-sized proxy database. The list can be filtered down by a number of attributes such as the port number of a proxy, country of origin of a proxy, and the level of anonymity of a proxy.

Note: If you do not know what any of these numbers mean, or how to use proxy servers in general, scroll to the bottom of this page.

Proxy Anonymity Levels Explained

A more detailed explanation on what this all means can be found on our proxy levels explained page, but the basic description of each proxy level goes like this:

Transparent - target server knows your IP address and it knows that you are connecting via a proxy server.
Anonymous - target server does not know your IP address, but it knows that you're using a proxy.
Elite or High anonymity - target server does not know your IP address, or that the request is relayed through a proxy server.

How to use Proxy Servers?

Almost any application, such as your own web browser, can be configured to route your connection through a proxy server for reasons of anonymity or performance. Configuring your browser to use a proxy server is quick and easy, and the instructions for doing that are described in our articles section.

However, the recommended alternative to doing all these steps anytime you wish to use a different proxy, is to use our homemade proxy switcher that can simplify the whole process to just a few mouse clicks. Our Nova Proxy Switcher can be downloaded from our proxy software page.
