Experiments with Life Itself Francisco Gonzalez de Canales, 2013-01-15 Every book relating the history of modern architecture features a large number of pages dedicated to avant garde designs and the formation of the modern movement in the interwar years and a similar number devoted to reconstruction and expansion after the Second World War Meanwhile as if owing to lack of understanding or convenient silence there is void of dark years of wars exile and misfortune about which little can be said However it was in these dark times as in so many other revealing moments in the history of culture that experimental and profoundly invigorating experiences were taking place Architects and artists voluntarily or forcibly driven to the margins of social importance began to react to a culturally unsustainable situation of which we know very little even today In Experiments with Life Itself Francisco Gonzalez de Canales studies a series of unrelated cases from the late 1930s to the late 1950s that he refers to as domestic self experimentation Abstracts of Theses University of New Mexico, 1929 Journal of Experimental Pedagogy and Training College Record , 1923 Life Embodied Nicolás Fernández-Medina, 2018-05-30 The concept of vital force the immanent energy that promotes the processes of life in the body and in nature has proved a source of endless fascination and controversy Indeed the question of what vitalizes the body has haunted humanity since antiquity and became even more pressing during the Scientific Revolution and beyond Examining the complexities and theories about vital force in Spanish modernity Nicolás Fernández Medina's Life Embodied offers a novel and provocative assessment of the question of bodily life in Spain Starting with Juan de Cabriada's landmark Carta filosofica m dico chymica of 1687 and ending with Ramón Gómez de la Serna's avant gardism of the 1910s Fernández Medina incorporates discussions of anatomy philosophy science critical theory history of medicine and literary studies to argue that concepts of vital force served as powerful vehicles to interrogate the possibilities and limits of corporeality Paying close attention to how the body's capabilities were conceived and strategically woven into critiques of modernity Fernández Medina engages the work of Miguel Boix y Moliner Mart n Mart nez Diego de Torres Villarroel Sebastián Guerrero Herreros Ignacio Mar a Ruiz de Luzuriaga Gaspar Melchor de Jovellanos Pedro Mata y Fontanet ngela Grassi Juli n Sanz del R o Miguel de Unamuno and P o Baroja among others Drawing on extensive research and analysis Life Embodied breaks new ground as the first book to address the question of vital force in Spanish modernity Report of the ...
