Do We Need Pan European Media:

Do we need pan-European Media? Nina Ratavaara, 2011-09-21 Essay from the year 2009 in the subject Communications Media and Politics Politic Communications grade 4 0 2 0 s Anm University of Helsinki Communications course European Media and Communication Policies language English abstract Europe can be defined and its countries linked together in several ways and its borders aren't completely clear Geography and history join us and with the start of the EU also political and more defined economical reasons Several areas of Europe share a similar culture But there are as many or maybe even more differences as similarities E.g. Switzerland is not part of the EU but part of Europe and inside the country itself there are 4 languages and at least as many cultures So how could a big area like Europe have something in common if it's not even possible in a small country like Switzerland Media is traditionally a strong part of culture The culture media is produced in defines its characteristics and simultaneously the media influences the culture Regional or national radio and television seem to be a very important tool to define identity and culture In the EU the focus lies more on economics than on building a common culture and identity But for the EU to be accepted and therefore to function a bonding element has to exist A shared culture and value community must be created cf Habermas 2001 4 and pan European media could play a crucial role in that It might show people living in a wide diverse area called Europe that this region could be a community that actually exists and is not only machinery publishing policies and dealing with economy The shared currency the Euro could have been and maybe is a step into that direction but not every EU country has the Euro e.g. Sweden UK and not every country in the European area is a member of the EU e.g. Norway Switzerland Commercial media companies already walk the way towards pan European companies and media cf IBM News Why would they do it if they wouldn't see profit in it So even if former projects like Eurikon cf Euronews have failed in the 1980ies it seems to be worth to invest in pan European Media both from an economical and cultural point of view It is a challenge for national protectionism as well as for cultural and social diversity but building a community has involved the same challenges for ages The Palgrave Handbook of Cross-Border Journalism Liane Rothenberger, Martin Löffelholz, David H. Weaver, 2024-01-02 This handbook critically analyzes cross border news production and transnational journalism cultures in the evolving field of cross border journalism As the era of the internet has further expanded the border transcending production dissemination and reception of news and with transnational co operations like the European Broadcasting Union and BBC World News demonstrating different kinds of cross border journalism the handbook considers the field with a range of international contributions It explores cross border journalism from conceptual and empirical angles and includes perspectives on the systemic contexts of cross border journalism its structures and routines changes in production processes and the shifting roles of actors in digital environments It examines cross border journalism across regions and concludes with discussions on the future of cross border journalism including the influence of automation algorithmisation virtual reality and AI European Media in Crisis

Josef Trappel, Jeanette Steemers, Barbara Thomass, 2015-06-12 When the financial markets collapsed in 2008 the media industry was affected by a major slump in advertising revenues and a formerly highly successful business model fell into a state of decay This economic crisis has threatened core social values of contemporary democracies such as freedom diversity and equality Taking a normative and policy perspective this book discusses threats and opportunities for the media industry in Europe What are the implications of the crisis for professional journalism the media industry and the process of political communication Can non state and non market actors profit from the crisis And what are media policy answers at the national and European level

Media Studies Sue Thornham, Caroline Bassett, Paul Marris, 2009 Why are some people more capable than others What are the reasons for someone gaining unusual abilities or special expertise or being especially creative What has to happen in order for a young person to become a child prodigy or genius How can we help today's children to reach high levels of ability and to shine in the arts or the sciences in sports or games or to excel in other fields of expertise The Psychology of High Abilities explains how when and why people acquire such special expertise and illuminates ways to make it possible for larger numbers of young people to extend their capabilities Examining how and why people differ in their capabilities it investigates the actual causes underlying impressive accomplishments and achievements The volume reveals the kinds of influences that contribute to high abilities and provides practical insights into the most effective ways for extending the abilities of young people and creating higher levels of expertise

Transnationalization of Public Spheres H. Weßler, B. Peters, M. Brüggemann, K. Kleinen-v. Königslöw, S. Sifft, 2008-07-10 This book takes a fresh look at a widely debated question in international relations and political communication research How can public discourses contribute to democratic governance beyond the nation state The book combines quantitative and qualitative analyses of media content and evaluates them from a democratic theory perspective

Foundations of Global Communication Kai Hafez, Anne Grüne, 2022-05-30 This book provides a wide ranging theoretical and empirical overview of the disparate achievements and shortcomings of global communication This exceptionally ambitious and systematic project takes a critical perspective on the globalization of communication Uniquely it sets media globalization alongside a plethora of other globalized forms of communication ranging from the individual to groups civil society groupings commercial enterprises and political formations The result is a sophisticated and impressive overview of globalized communication across various facets assessing the phenomena for the extent to which they live up to the much hyped claims of globalization's potential to create a globally interdependent society The setbacks of globalization such as right wing populism and religious fundamentalism can only be understood if the shortcomings of global communication are taken more seriously Covering all types of cross border global communication in media political and economic systems civil societies social media and lifeworlds of the individual this unique book is invaluable for students and researchers in media communication globalization and related areas
