Einstein's Heroes Robyn Arianrhod, 2003 Arianrhod mathematics Monash U Australia explores the quest to make sense of the physical world focusing on the work of James Clerk Maxwell 1831-79 who developed the theory of electromagnetism as the first physicist to embrace the ambiguous relationship between language and reality Distri Einstein on the Run Andrew Robinson, 2019-10-08 A highly readable account of the role Britain played in Einstein's life by inspiring his teenage passion for physics and providing refuge from the Nazis The Wall Street Journal In late 1933 Albert Einstein found himself living alone in an isolated holiday hut in rural England There he toiled peacefully at mathematics occasionally stepping out for walks or to play his violin But how had Einstein come to abandon his Berlin home and go on the run This lively account tells the story of the world's greatest scientist's time in Britain for the first time showing why the country was the perfect refuge for Einstein from rumored assassination plots by Nazi agents Young Einstein's passion for British physics epitomized by Newton had sparked his scientific development around 1900 British astronomers had confirmed his general theory of relativity making him internationally famous in 1919 Welcomed by the British people who helped him campaign against Nazi anti-Semitism he even intended to become a British citizen So why did Einstein then leave Britain never to return to Europe A vivid look at how the U.K. affected the German-born physicist's life and thinking Publishers Weekly A marvelous job of pulling new and interesting material out of the Einstein archives I suspect that even readers who have devoured many books about Einstein and are already familiar with his interactions with the English will find much to learn and enjoy Metascience Journal Robinson has that rare knack for presenting a near encyclopedic volume of historical information anecdotes and contemporaneous accounts in a thoroughly delightful fashion Physics World Includes photographs and illustrations
