Diversity In Mathematics Education Towards Inclusive Practices Mathematics Education Library:

Diversity in Mathematics Education Alan Bishop, Hazel Tan, Tasos N Barkatsas, 2014-09-20 This book presents a research focus on diversity and inclusivity in mathematics education The challenge of diversity largely in terms of student profiles or contextual features is endemic in mathematics education and is often argued to require differentiation as a response Typically different curricula text materials task structures or pedagogies are favoured responses but huge differences in achievement still result If we in mathematics education seek to challenge that status quo more research must be focussed not just on diversity but also on the inclusivity of practices in mathematics education The book is written by a group of experienced collaborating researchers who share this focus It is written for researchers research students teachers and in service professionals who recognise both the challenges but also the opportunities of creating and evaluating new inclusive approaches to curriculum and pedagogy ones that take for granted the positive values of diversity Several chapters report new research in this direction The authors are part of or have visited with the mathematics education staff of the Faculty of Education at Monash University in Melbourne Australia The chapters all focus on the ideas of development in both research and practice recognising that the current need is for new inclusive approaches The studies presented are set in different contexts including Australia China the United States and Singapore

Resources in Education ,1994 Inclusion and Diversity in Education: Developing inclusive schools and school systems Peter Hick, Gary Thomas, 2009 This 4 volume set brings together seminal articles and key writings on the theme of inclusion and diversity in education The collection takes disability and special educational need as a starting point from which to develop a broader focus on a range of themes relating to learners who may be marginalised from educational opportunities This includes for example members of minority ethnic communities students excluded from schools or who are looked after in public care and other dimensions of exclusion arising from social class gender or sexuality The starting point for understanding inclusive education lies in social justice perspectives and this forms the basis for the first volume Volumes two and three focus on research aimed at developing more inclusive practices both at the levels of schools and school systems and at the levels of inclusive pedagogy enacted in the classroom and through the curriculum Volume four reflects the range of voices in research on inclusive education drawing on traditionally marginalised voices and those of learners in particular Three cross cutting themes are represented across all four volumes a chronological approach showing how key concepts and perspectives have developed in each area of the literature identified groups of learners developing more nuanced readings of how processes of exclusion and inclusion intersect dimensions such as disability class and race and contexts for learning such as urban education and global or comparative perspectives
