Full Irish Sarah A. Lappin, 2009-09-23 From Georgian cities to modernist masterpieces architecture in Ireland has a long history of excellence The last fifteen years however witnessed more social economic and cultural change than any previous period on the island leaving a dramatic mark on the country's architecture A new commitment to design quality by developers and a series of government sponsored competitions to design new civic buildings enabled Ireland to become for the first time a net importer of architectural talent These architects from disparate cultures and design backgrounds filled Ireland's landscape with modern architectural masterworks from small private homes to large community centers In Full Irish author Sarah A Lappin examines the nature of twenty first century Irish architectural identity as it develops its own progressive contemporary idiom Illustrated with color photographs and drawings Full Irish includes more than seventy projects from Ireland's leading firms as well as its up and coming designers Boyd Cody Alan Jones de Blacam and Meagher Bucholz McEvoy de Paor Architects FKL Architects Dominic Stevens Grafton Architects Henschion Reuter Hackett Hall McKnight Heneghan Peng McCullough Mulvin Hassett Ducatez MacGabhann Architects O'Donnell Tuomey and O'DOS Architects

Infrastructure and the Architectures of Modernity in Ireland 1916-2016 Gary A. Boyd, John McLaughlin, 2016-12-05 At the formation of the new Republic of Ireland the construction of new infrastructures was seen as an essential element in the building of the new nation just as the adoption of international style modernism in architecture was perceived as a way to escape the colonial past Accordingly infrastructure became the physical manifestation the concrete identity of these objectives and architecture formed an integral part of this narrative Moving between scales and from artefact to context Infrastructure and the Architectures of Modernity in Ireland 1916-2016 provides critical insights and narratives on what is a complex and hitherto overlooked landscape one which is often as much international as it is Irish In doing so it explores the interaction between the universalising and globalising tendencies of modernisation on one hand and the textures of local architectures on the other The book shows how the nature of technology and infrastructure is inherently cosmopolitan Beginning with the building of the heroic Shannon hydro electric facility at Ardnacrusha by the German firm of Siemens Schuckert in the first decade of independence Ireland became a point of varying types of intersection between imported international expertise and local need Meanwhile at the other end of the century by the year 2000 Ireland had become one of the most globalized countries in the world site of the European headquarters of multinationals such as Google and Microsoft Climatically and economically expedient to the storing and harvesting of data Ireland has subsequently become a repository of digital information farmed in large single storey sheds absorbed into anonymous suburbs In 2013 it became the preferred site for Intel to design and develop its new microprocessor chip the Galileo The story of the decades in between of shifts made manifest in architecture and infrastructure from the policies of economic protectionism to the opening up of the country to direct foreign investment and the embracing of the EU is one of the influx of technologies and cultural references into a small country on the edges of Europe as Ireland became both a launch pad and testing ground for a series of aspects of designed modernity Routledge International Handbook of Irish Studies Renée Fox, Mike Cronin, Brian Ó Conchubhair, 2020-12-30 Routledge International Handbook of Irish Studies begins with the reversal in Irish fortunes after the 2008 global economic crash The chapters included address not only changes in post Celtic Tiger Ireland but also changes in disciplinary approaches to Irish Studies that the last decade of political economic and cultural unrest have stimulated Since 2008 Irish Studies has been directly and indirectly influenced by the crash and its reverberations through the economy political landscape and social framework of Ireland and beyond Approaching Irish pasts presents and futures through interdisciplinary and theoretically capacious lenses the chapters in this volume reflect the myriad ways Irish Studies has responded to the economic precarity in the Republic renewed instability in the North the complex European politics of Brexit global climate and pandemic crises and the intense social change in Ireland catalyzed by all of these Just as Irish society has had to dramatically reconceive its economic and global identity after the crash Irish Studies has had to shift its theoretical modes and its objects of analysis in order to keep pace with these changes and upheavals This book captures the dynamic ways the discipline has evolved since 2008 exploring how the age of austerity and renewal has transformed both Ireland and scholarly approaches to understanding Ireland It will appeal to students and scholars of Irish studies sociology cultural studies history literature economics and political science Chapter 3 5 and 15 of this book is available for free in PDF format as Open Access from the individual product page at www.routledge.com It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license Ireland and the New Architecture, 1900-1940 Sean Rothery, 1991 The first of its kind a history of Ireland's architecture in the early twentieth century with over 200 illustrations and photos Architecture, Festival and the City Jemma Browne, Christian Frost, Ray Lucas, 2018-10-26 Historically the urban festival served as an occasion for affirming shared convictions and identities in the life of the city Whether religious or civic in nature these events provided tangible expressions of social cultural political and religious cohesion often reaffirming a particular shared ethos within diverse urban landscapes Architecture has long served as a key aspect of this process exhibiting continuity in the flux of these representations through the parading of elaborate ceremonial floats the construction of temporary buildings the dressing of existing urban space the alternative occupations of the everyday and the construction of new buildings and spaces which then become a part of the background fabric of the city This book examines how festivals can be used as a lens to examine the relationship between city and citizen and questions whether this is fixed through time or has been transformed as a response to changes in the modern urban condition Architecture Festival and the City looks at the multilayered nature of a diverse selection of festivals and the way they incorporate both orderly authoritative and disorderly subversive components The aim is to reveal how the civic nature of urban space is utilised through festival to represent ideas of belonging and identity Recent political and social gatherings also raise questions about the relationship of these events to
