education Handbook of Research on Music Teaching and Learning Richard Colwell, Music Educators National Conference (U.S.), 1992 Policy and the Political Life of Music Education Patrick Schmidt, Richard Colwell, 2017-02-01

Policy and the Political Life of Music Education is the first book of its kind in the field of Music Education. It offers a far reaching and innovative outlook bringing together expert voices who provide a multifaceted and global set of insights into a critical arena for action today: policy. On one hand, the book helps the novice to make sense of what policy is, how it functions, and how it is discussed in various parts of the world; while on the other, it offers the experienced educator a set of critically written analyses that outline the state of the play of music education policy thinking. As policy participation remains largely underexplored in music education, the book helps to clarify to teachers how policy thinking does shape educational action and directly influences the nature, extent, and impact of our programs. The goal is to help readers understand the complexities of policy and to become better skilled in how to think, speak, and act in policy terms. The book provides new ways to understand and therefore imagine policy, approximating it to the lives of educators and highlighting its importance and impact. This is an essential read for anyone interested in change and how to better understand decision making within music and education. Finally, this book, while aimed at the growth of music educators' knowledge base regarding policy, also fosters open thinking regarding policy as a subject helping educators straddling arts and education to recognize that policy thinking can offer creative designs for educational change.

Ipsative Assessment G. Hughes, 2014-05-07 Ipsative assessment is a powerful new approach that provokes a radical rethink of the purposes and methods of assessment. This book presents a case for partially replacing competitive assessment with ipsative assessment and it explores the possibilities and the challenges with research evidence and case studies.

Education and Society, 2006 Global Trends Diego J. Veitia, 1995-08 Global Trends in Media Education Tony Lavender, Birgitte Tufte, Dafna Lemish, 2003 Over the last decades, Media Education has gradually obtained an educational status in many countries throughout the world, although few countries have actually incorporated this subject in their formal school curricula. Where Media Education is taught today, it is principally carried out using a relaxed, pluralistic and a cross or multidisciplinary approach. This book sets out to explore this new approach to the subject via chapters that are representative of ongoing work by leading Media Education researchers in nine different countries and from all five continents. Media Education is continually evolving, and the individual chapters indicate that the passion for the subject is global, while the actual translations of practices and policies are very much local. The book expands the debate about Media Education beyond the traditions and interests of one part of the world to encompass the needs of the rest.
