Developing Disaster Resilient Housing in Vietnam: Challenges and Solutions Tuan Anh Tran, 2015-12-21 This book provides a comprehensive understanding on disaster resilient housing within the Vietnam context particularly and the developing world generally The book has identified the root causes of housing vulnerability restrictions to safe housing development concepts of disaster resilient housing key issues factors implementers and building designers need to consider and ways of achieving resilient housing outcomes in actual design projects The design and development of disaster resilient housing has been framed into three main themes i community consultation ii the role of built environment professionals and iii design responses for resilience To achieve these themes there is a variety of contextual and intervening conditions that need to be addressed and met to provide an enabling environment for promoting disaster resilient housing These three themes are among the most arguable issues in recent debates and discussions academically and practically regarding disaster risk reduction and safe housing development In addition this book also provides the evidence based design framework for disaster resilient housing upon which design ideas and solutions for safe and resilient housing can be generated and shaped

Planning for Resilient Small and Medium-Sized Cities in Ghana Stephen Kofi Diko, Seth Asare Okyere, Stephen Leonard Mensah, Louis Kusi Frimpong, 2025-09-10 Planning for Resilient Small and Medium Sized Cities in Ghana explores the resilience and planning dynamics and complexities of rapid urban transitions in Ghana s small and medium sized cities SMCs and their implications for Africa and the Global South The book argues that Ghana s urban future may have more to do with the steady growth of SMCs where urban consolidation is gradually taking a foothold Recognizing that Ghana s primary cities are well known to be socio ecological hotspots of risk reactive urban planning and entrenched inequalities of alarming proportions this book asks would SMCs follow these troubling realities and trajectories in large cities or leapfrog to resilient futures that work for all Through a range of interdisciplinary perspectives the contributions emphasize the need for integrated planning strategies to navigate socio ecological challenges and opportunities that SMCs face in terms of infrastructure governance and climate resilience By centering overlooked and understudied SMCs in Ghana s urban scholarship this book realigns resilience planning to the spaces and places emerging as the frontiers of socio ecological crises It will be of interest to students and researchers of city and regional planning urban studies geography environmental studies and science public policy development studies and public health as well as urban planners community development practitioners geographers environmental disaster and resilient personnel and policymakers

Sustainable Housing Reconstruction Esther Charlesworth, Iftekhar Ahmed, 2015-06-05 Through 12 case studies from Australia Bangladesh Haiti Sri Lanka Vietnam and the USA this book focuses on the housing reconstruction process after an earthquake tsunami cyclone flood or fire Design of post disaster housing is not simply replacing the destroyed house but as these case studies highlight a means to not only build a safer house but also a more resilient community not to simply return to the same condition as before the disaster but an opportunity for building back better The book explores two main themes Housing reconstruction is most successful when involving the users in the design and construction process Housing reconstruction is most effective when it is integrated with community infrastructure services and the means to create real livelihoods The case studies included in this book highlight work completed by different agencies and built environment professionals in diverse disaster affected contexts With a global acceleration of natural disasters often linked to accelerating climate change there is a critical demand for robust housing solutions for vulnerable communities This book provides professionals policy makers and community stakeholders working in the international development and disaster risk management sectors with an evidence based exploration of how to add real value through the design process in housing reconstruction Herein then the knowledge we need to build an approach to improve our processes a window to understanding the complex domain of post disaster housing reconstruction

Coastal Development Between Opportunity and Disaster Risk Johannes Braese, Sophie de Vries Robb  , Jun Rentschler, 2020 This paper presents a multisectoral risk assessment analyzing natural risks faced by key drivers of socioeconomic development in coastal Vietnam The analysis quantifies the exposure of assets and economic activity to the following natural hazards riverine flooding coastal flooding typhoon winds coastal erosion and saline intrusion These hazards are analyzed according to their impact on agricultural production aquaculture human settlements industrial zones tourism health care facilities schools and the electricity transmission network Overall the results show the complex nature of natural risk in Vietnam with significant exposure of key economic sectors public services and assets The estimates suggest that exposure varies greatly between hazards sectors and provinces This paper provides detailed technical descriptions of the methodologies data sources and analytical assumptions employed to obtain the estimates and acts as a technical background paper to Resilient Shores Vietnam s Coastal Development between Opportunity and Disaster Risk Rentschler and others 2020

Disaster Resilient Housing (2)., 2023 Policies and Practices on Maintenance for Resilient Houses, A Case Study from the GCF Coastal Resilience Project in Vietnam Dinh Tuan Hai, 2022 Vietnam is considered as the country at extreme climate condition with the annual accumulated damage due to typhoons and floods that seriously destroyed houses and caused many deaths The GCF Coastal Resilience Project GCF project comprises a component to build 4 000 storm and flood resistant houses for five coastal provinces in the central of Vietnam The paper is carried out to review existing policies and practices related to the maintenance of resilient houses as well as to propose feasible maintenance solutions for houses to ensure the sustainability of the GCF project The result shows currently there are no technical instructions or a manual on maintenance and repair of individual houses in general or GCF houses in particular Most of the households in the project themselves also have very low and unstable income Besides they do not have knowledge of construction works and subsequently they also know little to nothing about the maintenance of the house

Coastal Development between Opportunity and Disaster Risk Dzong Huy Nguyen, Long Thanh Nguyen, Tran Thanh Tung, Mathijs van Ledden, 2020 This paper provides a high level assessment of Vietnam's sea dike system and its prescribed dike safety standards The assessment estimates that 65 percent of the sea dike system does not meet the safety standards and that about 2 billion in capital investment is necessary to meet the standards mainly in the Red River Delta It also shows that current safety standards need finetuning especially in areas with high risk and growth This paper acts as a technical background paper to the report Resilient Shores Vietnam's Coastal Development between Opportunity and Disaster Risk Rentschler et al 2020 A Framework for Sustainable Resilient Houses on the Coastal Areas of Khanh Hoa, Vietnam Ha Xuan Viet Doan, 2022

Bracing for Typhoons, 2015 The Central Coast of Vietnam has had a long history of severe typhoons and flooding Efforts have been made to minimize the effects of these natural disasters on both people and properties There are many approaches in minimizing the effects including early warning and better evacuation plans helping local residents prepare better for typhoons and living with them while a typhoon is going through an area and building more resilient systems This project focuses on analyzing the effects of a Type 13 typhoon on a single family house commonly found along the Central Coast of Vietnam The design of the winner of ISET's Resilient Housing Design Competition was selected to be constructed and analyzed in SAP2000 version 15 a structural analysis software The ASCE 7-05 Design Manual and particularly Chapter 6 Wind Loads were consulted in determining the wind pressure distribution on the house of a wind generated from a Type 13 typhoon After constructing the model in SAP2000 and running the analysis several conclusions were drawn from the model The dead load effects including the dead weight and the gutter loads dominated over the wind loads This was not the expected results The maximum deflection on the model occurred at the connection between the top of the lower roof and the bottom of the emergency access window The maximum stress concentration occurred at the exterior horizontal girder at the back of the house where the upper roof tips down Coastal Disasters and Climate Change in Vietnam Nguyen Danh Thao, Hiroshi Takagi, Miguel Esteban, 2014-06-04 Coastal Disasters and Climate Change in Vietnam is the first book to focus specifically on natural hazards and climate change in Vietnam The book examines threats such as tropical cyclones sea level rise flooding erosion and salinity intrusion and their respective effects on coastal structures and environments It also looks at crucial management and mitigation efforts including breakwater design irrigation systems coastal dunes and dikes and more The challenges faced by this country in the future will have important regional and global repercussions areas such as the Mekong Delta produce a significant proportion of the world's rice and coastal impacts on this region will have far reaching economic and public health effects This book is an important source of information for government and local policy makers environmental and climate scientists and engineers Broad coverage of climate challenges specific to the region including sea level rise storms erosion and more Assessments of impact on and effects of economic development and port construction Examination of public policy responses to climate change

Resilient Housing Design for Tsunami Prone Andaman and Nicobar Islands in India Sabyasachi Das,2017 Human settlement along coastal areas has grown dramatically over the last two decades Unfortunately coastal areas are prone to natural disasters caused by climate change and tectonic shifts underwater in the adjacent water bodies resulting in loss of life and property Tsunami is a form of natural disaster which occurs because of earthquakes under oceans and seas creating large waves which flood or wash out any coastal cities or islands located in the area impacted In 2004 the Indian Ocean Tsunami had an enormous impact on the coastal cities in Southeast Asia causing loss of thousands of lives and making millions homeless One region that bore the worst impacts of this tsunami was the Andaman and Nicobar Islands in India located in the Bay of Bengal Relocating for those who lost their houses was the biggest post disaster issue as these islands were completely washed out People built temporary housing until they moved to permanent houses which took about two years to develop The temporary houses built by the disaster struck population were unsustainable Being an island town natural disasters such as tsunami due to tectonic shifts or rising water levels globally could reoccur bringing even more damage This thesis addresses the development of a resilient house as a solution for preventing homelessness caused by coastal natural disasters and act as an informative guide for houses that are to be built to make them resilient to similar natural disasters Resilient housing is a viable solution to reduce the loss of housing post a disaster and to protect human lives through the disaster This proposed prototype design of the core and shell of the house which is resilient and based on the characteristics of the region is based on studying and analyzing existing research in the field of tsunami s and their impact This thesis takes into account the climate of the region and has features that ensure better comfort levels The development of this thesis involved a study of Tsunami and its impacts social aspects of the study area relationship between structures and their resilience to Tsunami the regulatory requirements of the government regarding incorporation of resilience in building design a climate characterization of the region This was followed by an analysis of the information gathered based on which a prototype design of a house resilient to impacts of Tsunami has been proposed
