Forgiveness Reintegration Transformative Process Impacts:

Trauma, Survival and Resilience in War Zones David Winter, Rachel Brown, Stephanie Goins, Clare Mason, 2015-10-16 This book based upon a series of psychological research studies examines Sierra Leone as a case study of a constructivist and narrative perspective on psychological responses to warfare telling the stories of a range of survivors of the civil war The authors explore previous research on psychological responses to warfare while providing background information on the Sierra Leone civil war and its context Chapters consider particular groups of survivors including former child soldiers as well as amputee footballers mental health service users and providers and refugees Implications of the themes emerging from this research are considered with respect to how new understandings can inform current models of trauma and work with its survivors Amongst the issues concerned will be post traumatic stress and post traumatic growth resilience mental health service provision perpetration of atrocities and forgiveness The book also provides a critical consideration of the appropriateness of the use of Western concepts and methods in an African context Drawing upon psychological theory and rich narrative research Trauma Survival and Resilience in War Zones will appeal to researchers and academics in the field of clinical psychology as well as those studying post war conflict zones

"Be Focused... Use Common Sense... Overcome Excuses and Stupidity..." Reuben van Rensburg, Zoltan Erdey, Thomas Schirmmacher, 2022-07-07 Manfred Kohl has served in many senior roles in theological education and holds the distinction of having personally visited more theological institutions than anyone else in history 495 He has published over 120 books and articles and has received numerous awards and honorary doctorate degrees He founded World Vision the well known Christian Humanitarian Organization in several European Countries Re Forma which has set a global standard for non formal theological education the Galilean Movement calling for annually an additional 1 million women and men for biblical ministry and co chairs the Integrity Commission of the World Evangelical Alliance and the Lausanne Movement In this festschrift more than 30 scholars from around the world pay tribute to this remarkable man by each contributing an article focused on the areas of his career where he has made telling contributions As theological educators theologians Christian leaders and students read this book it will not only result in his legacy living on but will make a significant contribution to theological education both in the formal and non formal sectors

Theology of Reconciliation in the Context of Church Relations Rula Khoury Mansour, 2020-01-31 Christians are called to be peacemakers in a world rife with conflict but how should Christians respond when the source of strife is not outside the church but within it Built on an in depth analysis of three Palestinian church splits this text examines the cultural and theological implications of intra church conflict in Arab evangelical communities in Israel Translating Miroslav Volf s formative theology of reconciliation into her contemporary Palestinian context Dr Rula Khoury Mansour provides a critical evaluation of both Volf s theory and Palestinian peacemaking models Through her research and analysis Dr Mansour develops a Middle Eastern theology of reconciliation and encourages congregations around the world to develop greater cultural and theological awareness in their quest to experience lasting peace within their churches and wider communities

Forgiveness and Reintegration, 2015 Amnesty and the Niger Delta Conflict. Effects and Solutions According to the Conflict Transformation Theory Frank Adogbeji Enakemu, 2021-07-01 Master's Thesis from the year 2021 in the subject Politics Topic Peace and Conflict Security grade 8.5 University of Port Harcourt course Master's in Conflict and Security Studies language English abstract The paper is about amnesty the Niger delta conflict and the conceptual Framework like the concept of amnesty and the concept of disarmament demobilisation and reintegration The research examined the impact of the Federal Government's 2009 Amnesty programme for ex militants in the Niger Delta The focus was on security and development in the region it also focused on oil pipeline vandalism The study made use of the Conflict Transformation theory The central thesis of conflict transformation theory is that contemporary violent conflicts require interventions than transcend more than a mere change of position and the identification of win win outcomes The study utilized mainly qualitative methods the Focus Group Discussion FGD and In Depth Interviews IDI Secondary sources of data collection such as journals articles books government publication internet articles and newspapers were also utilized the data were descriptively analysed The sampling technique employed for the study was the purposive sampling to select the audience for the FGDs and IDIs The findings revealed that the amnesty programme was able to address the security problem in the region to enable government to successfully carry out oil exploration and increase the nations earning from oil production The findings also revealed that issues relating to governance and development in the region are still a fundamental problem in need of dire solutions The research recommends the following The federal government should push for restructured Nigeria The federal government should look into ways to improving on the present programme on Niger Delta oil cooperation's must be made to participate in providing basic amenities in the Region the federal government must prioritize the clean up of the region due to continuous oil spill and pollution in the environment Repairing Communities Through Restorative Justice John G. Perry, 2002 Restorative justice is a relatively new concept in corrections Repairing Communities examines how restorative justice can be used to rehabilitate offenders as opposed to simply punishing them This book's contributors examine the benefits of restorative justice to the offender the victim and corrections Topics discussed include Moral and Philosophical Foundations of Restorative Justice Community is Not a Place Linking Crime Prevention to Restorative Justice Practical Concerns Building Peace the VORP Approach and Community Justice Sanctioning Models This book includes the vocabulary of restorative justice and real life examples which demonstrate the principles examined The Linacre Quarterly, 1999 Restorative Justice and Practices in New Zealand Gabrielle M. Maxwell, James Hou-fu Liu, 2007 The quest for justice has been a powerful driving force in all human societies In recent times the notice of restorative justice has gained currency To achieve restorative justice all those affected by a crime must be involved in finding a solution one that repairs the harm and restores broken relationships This means striving to rebuild the damaged lives not only of those who have suffered but also of those who have caused suffering to others It means the healing of hurts the reconciliation of offenders and victims and the eventual reintegration into the community of those who have offended as responsible and productive members of society This is no easy task But it is vital to building a cohesive inclusive and fair society Moreover restorative practices need not be limited to the criminal justice arena They are equally applicable in other fields of human endeavour where people have been harmed and where the restoration of broken relationships is needed This book provides an up to date account of how restorative processes and practices are being applied in New Zealand in the justice system education civil disputes and government responses to historical wrongs It will be a valuable source of ideas and inspiration for all those who are seeking to build a more restorative society

Restoring Justice Daniel W. Van Ness, Karen Heetderks Strong, 2002

The book outlines why criminal justice is in need of a new vision and how restorative justice can meet this need The authors define restorative justice and its values explore its foundational underpinnings and details ways to build restorative justice into policy and practice The book grew out of a three year project investigating the theory behind restorative justice the principles for its application and the implementation of practical programs to advance the restorative justice vision This second edition continues with the mission by examining how restorative justice concepts have been applied and by evaluating the conceptual and practical objections and obstacles to restorative justice in practice

 Though conflict has been the focus of much academic attention the processes of recovering from war and conflict have been little studied Confusion still exists as to whether post war reconstruction is concerned with relief or development with physical rebuilding economic recovery social reintegration or political reconstruction The result is an all too frequent fragmentation and waste of effort on the ground An understanding of the need to plan and integrate the many different activities for reconstruction and recovery within a shared vision is therefore crucial The International Library of Post war Reconstruction and Development will set out a conceptual and strategic framework for post war reconstruction practice at the same time exploring and illustrating specific aspects of practice for those working in the field or training to do so The series will also act as a focus for a continuing dialogue between academics and practitioners at the forefront of developing
