Forget Memory Creating Better Lives For People With Dementia:

Forget Memory Anne Davis Basting, 2009-07-01 Memory loss can be one of the most terrifying aspects of a diagnosis of dementia. Yet the fear and dread of losing our memory make the experience of the disease worse than it needs to be according to cultural critic and playwright Anne Davis Basting. She says Forget Memory emphasizes the importance of activities that focus on the present to improve the lives of persons with Alzheimer's disease and other dementias. Based on ten years of practice and research in the field, Basting's study includes specific examples of innovative programs that stimulate growth, humor, and emotional connection. Translated into accessible language, a wide range of provocative academic works on memory and addresses how advances in medical research and clinical practice are already pushing radical changes in care for persons with dementia. Bold, optimistic, and innovative, Basting's cultural critique of dementia care offers a vision for how we can change the way we think about and care for people with memory loss.

Beyond the Great Forgetting

Patrick Gruener, 2022-08-29 Drawing on a selection of carefully curated autobiographical and fictional portrayals of the dementia experience, this book gives voice to some of the most pressing ethical issues that commonly arise in the context of a dementing disorder and calls attention to various forms of narrative resistance in contemporary American literature on early onset Alzheimer's disease. AD. Based on the premise that the current public discourse on AD is largely dominated by an anxiety and fear promoting conception of the illness, this multilayered inquiry strives to look beyond the widespread horrors of forgetting and loss in AD and in doing so attempts to give a better, more accurate and more balanced impression of what it means to be living with such a diagnosis.

Identity Construction and Illness Narratives in Persons with Disabilities

Charlotte Glinborg, Manuel L. de la Mata, 2020-08-31 This book investigates how being diagnosed with various disabilities impacts on identity. Once diagnosed with a disability, there is a risk that this label can become the primary status both for the person diagnosed as well as for their family. This reification of the diagnosis can be oppressive because it subjugates humanity in such a way that everything a person does can be interpreted as linked to their disability. Drawing on narrative approaches to identity in psychology and social sciences, the bio-psycho-social model and a holistic approach to disabilities, the chapters in this book understand disability as constructed in discourse as negotiated among speaking subjects in social contexts and as emergent. By doing so, they amplify voices that may have otherwise remained silent and use storytelling as a way of communicating the participants' realities to provide a more in-depth understanding of their point of view. This book will be of interest to all scholars and students of disability studies, sociology, medical humanities, disability research methods, narrative theory, and rehabilitation studies.

Alzheimer's Disease in Contemporary U.S. Fiction Cristina Garrigós, 2021-07-28 This volume seeks to bring readers to a deeper understanding of contemporary cultural and social configurations of Alzheimer s disease by analyzing 21st century U S novels in which the disease plays a key narrative role Via analysis of selected works Garrig s considers how the erasure of memory in a person with Alzheimer s affects our idea of the identity of that person and their sense of belonging to a group Starting out from three different types of memory individual social and cultural the study focuses on the narrative strategies that authors use to configure how the disease is perceived and represented This study is significant not only because of what the texts reveal about those with Alzheimer s but also for what they say about us about the authors and readers who are producing and consuming these texts about how we see this disease and what our attitudes to it say about contemporary U S society

Access in Applied Theatre and Drama Education Colette Conroy, Adelina Ong, Dirk J. Rodricks, 2020-06-09 This book explores and interrogates access and diversity in applied theatre and drama education Access is persistently framed as a strategy to share power and to extend equality but in the context of current and recent power struggles it is also seen as a discourse that reinforces marginalisation and exclusion The political bind of access is also a conceptual problem It is impossible to refuse to engage in strategies to extend access to institutions representations buildings education discourse etc We cannot oppose access or strategies for access without reinforcing marginalisation and exclusion We can't not want access for ourselves or for others However we are then in danger of remaining immersed in a distribution of power that reinforces and naturalises inequality as difference For applied theatre and drama education the act of creating teaching and learning is intrinsically connected to choice along with the agency and capacity to choose What is less clear and what still interests us is how the distribution of power and representation creates the schema for an analysis of access and diversity This book was originally published as a special issue of Research in Drama Education: The Journal of Applied Theatre and Performance Cultural Histories of Ageing Margery Vibe Skagen, 2021-05-12 Drawing on sixteenth to twenty first century American British French German Polish Norwegian and Russian literature and philosophy this collection teases out culturally specific conceptions of old age as well as subjective constructions of late life identity and selfhood The internationally known humanistic gerontologist Jan Baars the prominent historian of old age David Troyansky and the distinguished cultural historian and pioneer in the field of literature and science George Rousseau join a team of literary historians who trace out the interfaces between their chosen texts and the respective periods medical and gerontological knowledge The chapters in depth analyses of major and less known works demonstrate the rich potential of fiction poetry and autobiographical writing in the construction of a cultural history of senescence These literary examples not only bear witness to longue durée representations of old age and epochal transitions regarding cultural attitudes to the aged they also foreground the subjectivities that produced some of these representations and that continue to communicate with readers of other times and places By casting a net over a variety of authors genres periods and languages the collection gives a broad sense of how literature is among the richest and most engaging sources for historicizing the ageing self A Guide to Humanistic Studies in Aging Thomas R. Cole, Ruth E. Ray, Robert Kastenbaum, 2010-06 Aging has long been of interest to scholars and practitioners in a vast array of academic fields and professions Thomas R Cole Ruth E Ray and Robert Kastenbaum have brought together leaders from a variety of academic realms to explore how aging is depicted in the modern era and the effect of these portrayals on individuals and society Human Diseases and Conditions Miranda Herbert Ferrara, 2010 Presents articles dealing with two hundred and eighty diseases and disorders from acne and brain tumor to tobacco related diseases and yellow fever Journal of Dramatic Theory and Criticism, 2014 Choice, 2009 2010 Redaktion Osnabrück, 2011-06-16 Library Journal, 2009 Creative Care Anne Basting, 2020-05-19 A MacArthur Genius Grant
