Fostering Changes Treating Attachment Disordered Foster Children:

Fostering Changes Richard J. Delaney, 1998      A Short Introduction to Attachment and Attachment Disorder Colby Pearce, 2009-05-15 This book presents a short introduction to what attachment means and how to recognise attachment disorders in children The author explains how complex problems in childhood may stem from the parent child relationship during a child s early formative years and later from the child s engagement with the broader social world      Mental Health Interventions and Services for Vulnerable Children and Young People Panos Vostanis, 2007 This book provides a model which offers guidance on effective and appropriate therapeutic interventions and services for vulnerable children and young people the book enables professionals working with vulnerable children to choose the right intervention for each individual child

Team Parenting for Children in Foster Care Jeanette Caw, Judy Sebba, 2013-11-21 Team Parenting is a unique model of supporting children in care which involves foster carers and professionals working together to create stable and therapeutic foster placements This book describes the model s key principles and interventions and includes ideas that will inform and improve foster carers and professionals work in any setting      Fostering Changes Richard J. Delaney, 2006 This book outlines a hopeful course of treatment for Fostering Changes with its optimistic yet realistic guidelines for intervention with disturbed foster children      EBOOK: Nursing In Child And Adolescent Mental Health Nisha Dogra, Sharon Leighton, 2009-10-16 This book considers the range of skills and roles that nurse s now undertake within specialist CAMHS it provides a good basic introduction for nurses and clinicians from other disciplines Discussion around medication management as part of a nurse s extended role is timely and will be of particular use to those considering this option within their practice The text is easily accessible utilising case studies to enhance learning The inclusion of research and audit helps raise the need not only for nurses to be more involved in research but also the need for clinicians to evaluate their practice I would recommend this text to clinicians new to CAMHS Sharon Pagett Senior Lecturer Mental Health CAMHS Department of Nursing University of Central Lancashire Nurses have a key role to play within the Child and Adolescent Mental Health Team Yet there are few textbooks devoted to the specialist and advanced roles which many undertake within this field of practice This text will fill the void addressing legal and ethical issues while focusing upon clinical practice and the application of theoretical concepts Fiona Smith Adviser in Children s and Young People s Nursing Royal College of Nursing This book focuses on child and adolescent mental health CAMH for nurses training and working in this field The authors explore the various roles CAMH nurses fulfil and consider how these roles might be undertaken with confidence Drawing upon both the academic evidence available and grounded in the reality of clinical practice the book looks at how to assess the different issues and the various interventions used in practice The authors consider the effect of child and family development on mental health as well as broader factors influencing mental health and well being Among the core issues considered are Definitions and consequences of mental health illness and stigma Child development Legislative frameworks Assessment skills Therapeutic work individual counselling cognitive behavioural therapy family work and medication Clinical governance and supervision Research Chapters include case scenarios clinical applications and boxes highlighting the key context issues Nursing in Child and Adolescent Mental Health is relevant to nurses at all levels but is especially useful to postgraduate nurses and nurses in specialist child and adolescent mental health services SCAMHS Other professional staff will also find it useful Contributors Laurence Baldwin P Mani Das Gupta Clay Frake Neil Hemstock Michael Hodgkinson Sarah Hogan Cath Kitchen Peter Nolan Theresa Norris Ged Rogers Noreen Ryan Mervyn Townley Panos Vostanis and Richard Williams

Thinking Psychologically About Children Who Are Looked After and Adopted Kim S. Golding, 2006-04-21 The editors aim to address both children in care and also adoption issues They cover topics such as inter agency issues assessment residential care and users views The latest developments in neuroscience will be included in the chapter on health issues

Helping Children and Youths Develop Positive Attachments Eileen Mayers Pasztor, Maureen Leighton, Wendy Whiting Blome, 1993 This series of three interactive self instructional workbooks can be used individually or in collaboration with a social worker Ideas and information are presented with opportunities for the foster parent or adoptive parent to respond by answering questions or completing worksheets relating the presented information to specific children in their care Helping Children and Youths Develop Positive Attachments offers general background on how children form attachments and ways to help children develop and maintain positive attachments to their foster or adoptive parents

Psychology in Practice with Young People, Families, and Schools Allan Sigston, 1996 This is a reference for a wide range of professionals working or studying to work with young people families and schools It draws on current research and models of psychological practice applying to education social work and the health services

Joining New Families David Quinton, 1998 Joining New Families is based on a research study which followed 61 children who were placed between 5 and 9 years old with adoptive or permanent foster families Most of the children had previously been maltreated The study focused on the problems and strengths that these children brought to their new families how the new families coped and the factors associated with the placements becoming stable and secure The authors provide a detailed presentation of the findings from this unique study and highlight the implications for policy and practice Key factors examined include the children's pre placement experiences the quality of preparatory work with the children and families the characteristics of the new parents and their parenting style the children's emotional and behavioural difficulties the development of relationships within the new family the type and quality of post placement support Presenting new information and recommendations for future placements Joining New Families is a valuable resource for anyone involved in establishing permanent placements for older children
